Report Ohio Wheat Not Plowed Under

If this week's Ohio Crop Reporting Service forecast of the state's winter wheat harvest is accurate, it will not set any records. But the forecast indicates recent reports of farmers turning under their wheat fields to plant more profitable soybeans may have been exaggerated.

NATO Plans Beefed-Up Defenses

LONDON (AP) — The NATO allies have adopted President Carter's proposal to put their defense ministers to work on plans for strengthening forces in Europe to meet the Soviet Union's new offensive strength.

The 15-member North Atlantic Treaty Organization, wrapping up a two-day meeting Wednesday, announced the defense chiefs will meet next week in Brussels, Belgium, for a three-day strategy session.

The allies also accepted Carter's invitation to a summit meeting in Washington next May to chart NATO's defense for the 1980s in the face of "the growth in strength of offensive capabilities of the armed forces of the Warsaw Pact countries."

In his speech to the alliance Tuesday, Carter warned Soviet forces today "are much stronger than needed for any defense purpose." He promised U.S. efforts to revitalize the alliance and called on the allies to join in the task.

The Brussels meeting, opening Monday at NATO headquarters, will bring together representatives of all the alliance members except France.

Although the French remain members of the alliance, their military forces are not part of the NATO command structure headed by U.S. Gen. Alexander Haig.

Sheriff Doing Just Fine, Thank You

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Belmont County Sheriff Kathy Crumbley is doing just fine, thanks.

After five months on the job, the nation's only elected woman sheriff has solved her first murder and has proven she can keep the peace during a wildcat coal strike. The only problem that has her stymied at the moment is the mail.

"You just wouldn't believe how much mail I've had," said the 31-year-old strawberry blonde, gesturing toward a large bag bulging with letters. "They've come from all over the country and from 17 foreign nations." She said her foreign mail began pouring in after an Associated Press story last winter and hasn't let up since.

Sheriff Crumbley, a robust six-footer, also won some local fans during the recent coal strike which saw some 16,000 miners walk off their jobs in this eastern Ohio county, where she is the top law enforcement officer.

"We had a little trouble early in the strike," she recalled, strapping on her wheat farmers will harvest 63 million bushels from the 1.5 million acres planted to wheat—an average of 42 bushels an acre.

That is about 5 per cent below last year's harvest, but sharply above December's estimates.

"Last December, the crop didn't look at all well," said Terry King, crop statistician with the service. At that time, the service forecast a harvest of 53.7 million bushels from 1.58 million acres.

King said the 80,000-acre drop in the amount of winter wheat planted was about normal for the December-to-May forecast. The 9.3 million bushel increase in the harvest came about because "the crop looked bleak last fall, but wheat condition now is considered very good," he said.

King added, "We haven't had any more farmers turn over their winter wheat than normal. We always have some farmers plow up their fields. We've had very few fields plowed up this winter."

King added, "Most of the farmers who switched did so because of winter damage to their wheat." Not all farmers who gave up on wheat went to soybeans, he said. Some are planting corn.

The temptation to switch from wheat to beans seemed greatest late last month when beans were selling for more than $10 a bushel in Ohio and soybean futures on the Chicago Board of Trade were jumping ahead at the 30-cent per day increase limit.

On Wednesday, the price for soybeans had slipped to under $9 a bushel in Ohio and beans were losing ground on the Board of Trade.

Wheat is selling for about $2.10 a bushel.

"If wheat prices next year are anywhere near what they are now, the hell with it," said farmer Hamilton Robinson Jr., of Mount Victory. "I just won't plant any wheat at all." Robinson said that even with a "halfway respectable" stand of wheat, he figures to lose money on his harvest.

Later, one of the miners came up and told me I was the first sheriff who had ever treated the coal miners like human beings."

GOP Bares Energy Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans are ready to counter President Carter's energy program with a major proposal of their own that seeks to increase U.S. energy production by lifting price controls from oil and natural gas.

The GOP energy "alternative," expected to be backed today by the Senate's Republican membership, would allow energy companies to reap larger profits on domestic energy production.

But according to a draft of the proposal, these firms would be subject to a "windfall profits tax" unless they reinvested the added profits into finding and developing new oil and gas reserves.

A copy of the draft was obtained by The Associated Press.

GOP leaders stress that the draft is not final and may be subject to last-minute changes. But Republican congressional sources say it is unlikely that the main elements of the proposal will be modified.

While the President's proposal aims to reduce U.S. consumption by taxing excessive use of scarce fuels, the proposed GOP plan would let energy prices rise without taxation in an effort to spur production.

"Unwise government intervention in the marketplace has been the major cause of supply shortages, unrealistic prices, excessive consumption and increased dependence on foreign sources," the draft asserts.

But the proposed GOP plan also advocates energy conservation incentives similar to those in the administration plan, including tax breaks for those who install home insulation or solar energy units.

ROUNDTOWN

SPECIAL registration of voters in the Logan Elm and Teays Valley school districts by the Pickaway County Board of Elections will be held on successive Tuesdays beginning May 17.

Board workers will be located in the Logan Elm High School from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. May 17 and at the Teays Valley High School from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. May 24 to assist with the registration of new voters, those who changed their names, or those who changed their address since they last voted.

In the June 7 primary, Logan Elm voters will decide a 3.50 mill tax levy for operating expenses, and TV voters will decide a 5.3 mill bond issue for new building and improvement.

BICYCLE riders are reminded that Saturday is the annual Cancer Bike-A-Thon. Entry forms are available at each school, the Third National Bank and the Cancer Society office.

And it calls for continued development of the controversial breeder reactor program at Clinch River, Tenn., which the administration has proposed canceling. But it urges that a decision be delayed on whether technologies that use plutonium — such as the breeder reactor — should be used commercially.

The proposed plan also recommends that utilities wishing to convert from oil or gas to coal be given a five-year exemption from meeting federal clean air standards.

GOP leaders contend that the administration's energy plan, which would continue price controls on both gas and oil, fails to offer industry enough incentives to find new sources of energy.

Such an incentive can only be provided by a "return to free market pricing," says the GOP draft proposal.

"The plan will call for a balance between strong conservation and strong production" efforts, said Max Friedersdorf, staff director for the Senate Republican Conference.

Along with removal of price controls on oil and gas, the GOP plan would establish a windfall profits tax that "would be triggered only when producers fail to reinvest any excess revenues into expanded domestic energy exploration and development," the draft says.

The proposal calls for the immediate removal of federal price controls from all newly discovered oil, and a phasing out over an unspecified period the controls on oil from existing wells and fields.

The proposed GOP plan calls for a similar lifting of price controls on natural gas.

Egad! Friday The Thirteenth!

NEW YORK (AP) — Tomorrow is Friday the Thirteenth. It is the only one in 1977 and, as luck would have it, it falls in May. What could be worse?

"Nothing," Shawn Robbins said, stroking her cat. "But I don't believe in superstitions. I collect them. I find them fascinating, but I'm not superstitious."

Shawn Robbins can say that. She can spit in tomorrow's eye because she is a psychic. She knows, in advance, that tomorrow holds no evil for her even though it is a Friday the Thirteenth that falls in May, the direst kind.

May 13, as spook specialists such as Shawn Robbins know, is the ancient Roman festival of Lemuria. Woe are us.

Lemuria is the dreadful night when the Lemurs, the malevolent souls of the dead, hover about. Placate them. Make them a midnight sacrifice.

"Most superstitions have their origins in religion," Shawn Robbins said. "Others trace back to practical necessities."

"Friday the Thirteenth? The 13th apostle at the Last Supper was Judas Iscariot. The next day was Friday. We all know what happened. By the way, did you notice in the da Vinci painting that Judas has knocked over the salt? Interesting."

As for a superstition rooted in necessity, here's one from Shawn Robbins's copious collection: A coach-whip snake will catch you at night and whip you to death. Tell that to your slave if he is inclined to run away.

The superstition about walking under a ladder has elements of both origins.

Some say a ladder casts the shadow of a cross. Tread on it at your peril. Others, including Shawn Robbins, say a ladder casts the shadow of a ladder and the only reason for avoiding it is to keep from getting paint-splattered.

Shawn Robbins discovered her psychic powers 23 years ago when, as a girl of eight, she foretold her grandmother's death.

A few more accurate predictions and she discovered, as she explained it, that these weren't just lucky hunches. Over the years she has worked into the major league of psychics, predicting airplane crashes, finding criminals for the New York police, serving as seer in residence for the National Enquirer.

She took time out recently — probably knew she wouldn't be busy — to share some lesser known superstitions from her collection. Take them with a grain of salt. Then toss the salt

Large high pressure system centered over the Eastern half of the United States will keep fair and dry weather in Central Ohio over the weekend. High Wednesday was 72, while the low this morning was 39.

over your left shoulder. Here they are: Carry a rabbit's foot tomorrow. Not just any rabbit's foot. Carry the left hind foot of a rabbit that has run in a graveyard.

Don't get married in May. Wait until June, the month of Juno, patroness of happy marriages. As the Scots have warned us: "From the marriages in May, all the bairns die in decay."

Stay ashore if the old moon is in the lap of the new. That is, when you can see the faint outline of the full moon in the crescent of the new.

If none of these omens are what you're looking for, go see Shawn Robbins for a private reading. It will cost $50; the psychic business is good. Shawn Robbins doesn't plan to give it up. Not in the foreseeable future.

Circleville Junior Women Freshmen Scholarships Awarded

KAREN ANN REID

PEGGY LOU WILSON

MELODY LOUISE WARD

The Circleville Junior Women's Club has announced the recipients of the annual freshman scholarships. These awards are presented to local high school seniors who plan to continue their education at Ohio Colleges and Universities.

The recipients are Peggy Lou Wilson, Melody Louise Ward, Martine Ann Widmar, Karen Ann Reid.

This year a new vocational and technical scholarship has been established enabling young men and women to further their education at vocational schools throughout the state.

The recipient of the $500 scholarship this year was Martine Ann Widmar, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Widmar, 1033 Lynwood Drive. Miss Widmar, a senior at Circleville High School, plans to attend Mount Saint Joseph's Nursing School. She is a member of the National Honor Society, English Merit Society, Latin Club and Latin Honor Society, Junior Classical League and the Circleville Annual Staff. Miss Widmar was also a 1976 delegate to Buckeye Girls State.

Awarded the $100 matched funds scholarship to attend Ohio State University was Melody Louise Ward. She is the 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Ward, 10353 Darby Creek Road. She is a senior at Westfall High School and active in Students Active for Education, the annual staff, track team and the marching, pep, lab and concert bands. Miss Ward is also in the Spanish Club and the National Honor Society and has been awarded the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizenship Award and the Algebra Award. She plans to major in political science at Ohio State next fall.

The first recipient of the $200 vocational and technical scholarship is Peggy Lou Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wilson, 17243 Hart-sough Road, Laureville. Miss Wilson is an 18-year-old senior at Logan Elm and at Pickaway-Ross Vocational School. She has been accepted to attend Shawnee State General and Technical School and will pursue a career in nursing. She has been active in the vocational and industrial clubs of America and the National Honor Society. Miss Wilson is also interested in sports and is employed at Berger Hospital as a nursing assistant.

Karen Ann Reid, 18, has received a $150 special technical scholarship. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Reid, 13523 Call Road, Mt. Sterling. Presently a senior at Westfall High School, she has been accepted to attend Springfield Community Hospital to study nursing. Miss Reid has been involved in sports at Westfall as well as the Future Nurses of America and is a school office aid.

This year Circleville Junior Women's Clubs will renew the $500 scholarship awarded to Vanessa Long, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Long, Route 1, Williamsport. Miss Long is a freshman at Kent State University majoring in pre library science.

The Circleville Junior Women's Education Committee was chaired by Mrs. Atwood Jones. Other committee members were Mrs. Bob Barnes, Mrs. Tom Tootle, Mrs. Clark Cellio and Mrs. Paul Kowalski. The committee of community judges consisted of Tony Kamler, Mrs. Ruth Schneider and Charles Hickey. The judging was based on need, scholastic record, extra curricular activities and personal interviews.

Sheriff Doing Just Fine, Thank You

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Belmont County Sheriff Kathy Crumbley is doing just fine, thanks.

After five months on the job, the nation's only elected woman sheriff has solved her first murder and has proven she can keep the peace during a wildcat coal strike. The only problem that has her stymied at the moment is the mail.

"You just wouldn't believe how much mail I've had," said the 31-year-old strawberry blonde, gesturing toward a large bag bulging with letters. "They've come from all over the country and from 17 foreign nations." She said her foreign mail began pouring in after an Associated Press story last winter and hasn't let up since.

Sheriff Crumbley, a robust six-footer, also won some local fans during the recent coal strike which saw some 16,000 miners walk off their jobs in this eastern Ohio county, where she is the top law enforcement officer.

"We had a little trouble early in the strike," she recalled, strapping on her

.38 revolver as she talked. "The next day I attended a miners' rally at the ballfield over in Bellaire. There were about 300 men there and I told them I would hate to arrest any of them, especially since I was the granddaughter, daughter, niece and wife of a coal miner."

"They gave me a big hand and promised they'd lay off Belmont County and, by golly, they kept their word."

"You know," she added with a smile, "my husband wasn't at that rally. Somebody asked me where he was and I said: 'he's one coal miner who's home babysitting and that's where you belong.' Later, one of the miners came up and told me I was the first sheriff who had ever treated the coal miners like human beings."

She says she gets along well with her 17-member staff.

"When people ask my men how they like working for a woman, they tell them they're working 'for the people and with the woman.' I like that."

She said her husband has been very understanding, especially about her erratic hours and night calls. And in addition to late night emergencies, she also keeps up a killing pace of speaking appearances.

"I talk about such things as child molesting and self defense for women and elderly persons," she said. "Last week a woman who heard me speak came up and told me she hadn't voted for me but now wished she had. You know, there are 82,000 persons in this county and I think most of them feel the way that woman did. I think they have confidence in my ability to enforce the law."

Sam Warbel, an official at one of the county's coal mines, echoed her words. He said he felt she had handled the strike as well as anyone could have.

The sheriff says she isn't happy about the way she's handled her mail, however.

"I'm way behind," she said. "Here's a letter from Costa Rica. I did answer this one. It was from a guy who said he had bet $11 that I really didn't weigh 275 pounds. I had to write him back and

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was lower today, continuing Wednesday's downward trend.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks slipped 2.21 to 924.69 in the early going. Losers outnumbered gainers by a margin of more than 3-2 among New York Stock Exchange listed issues.

Analysts said the market was being held back by concern over the prospect of an increase in the prime interest lending rate. That was one key factor cited in Wednesday's trading slump.

Today's early prices included International Business Machines, off 1/2 at 252 1/4; Gulf Oil, down 3/8 to 27 1/4, and Sony Corp., off 1/4 at 9 1/4.

On Wednesday the Dow industrial average closed down 9.24 at 926.90, wiping out moderate gains of the previous day and deepening the net loss to more than 16 points over the past four trading days.

Losers outnumbered gainers by a margin of 11-7 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Big Board volume was 18.98 million shares Wednesday against 21.09 million the previous day.

The NYSE's composite index lost .32 to 53.98.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .21 at 114.04.

Brown Memorial Home Adopts Code Of Ethics

The Board of Trustees of Brown Memorial Home adopted the Code of Ethics for Member Homes presented by the Association of Ohio Philanthropic Homes for the Aging (AOPHA), which is an organization of voluntary non-profit Homes for the Aging in Ohio.

Member Homes throughout the State are being asked to adopt this AOPHA Code of Ethics as established by the action of the Association at its Annual Meeting in Columbus, Ohio, October 18, and 19, 1976.

R. Douglas Spittler, Administrator of the Home stated that the Brown Memorial Home was pleased to join with other homes in the State in this voluntary effort to champion quality care and foster and promote the peace and welfare of the elderly residents for which their Homes have accepted responsibility.

The Code of Ethics pledges the Home to integrity and competency in management, leadership, adherence to all pertinent laws and regulations, enlistment of responsible and dedicated workers, professional leadership, continuity of care with respect for the dignity and worth of the individuals and provision for their psychosocial needs. The Association represents 148 non-profit Homes in the State serving over 17,000 elderly residents and has been functioning in the State Since November 4, 1937. It is celebrating its 40th Anniversary this year.

Con Grabbed By Resident

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — A Michigan convict who exhausted a three-day pass, and led Ohio authorities on a 130-mile chase, was captured early today by a rural Washington County man who held him at gunpoint after the convict knocked on his door.

William Babcock, 19 of Sturgis, Mich., was held at the Washington County Jail. He was serving a 2-to-4 year sentence at the Michigan State Prison for grand larceny.

Babcock surrendered about 5:30 a.m. to Dennis Lemon, who, along with other residents, had been notified by authorities the previous night to be on the lookout for the escapee, Athens County sheriff's deputies said.

Ohio authorities had searched for Babcock since Wednesday night. During the chase, Babcock rammed a highway patrol cruiser in Athens County, then ditched his car in Washington County and went to Lemon's house two miles west of Vincent, Ohio, on foot.

Couple Married In Funeral Parlor

DETROIT (AP) — Thomas Blake and Brenda Cobb tried to get married in a church. But no minister was available, so they went to a funeral parlor and found one.

The Rev. J.H. Williams said he would be happy to come to the nearby Stinson Funeral Home to unite Blake, 24, and Miss Cobb, 21. Two funeral workers were their witnesses.

Anna Stinson, wife of the funeral home owner, said she was pleased by the impromptu ceremony Tuesday.

"You get to see lots of unhappiness in funeral homes. This was a happy occasion for a change." She said it was the first marriage to be performed at the parlor.

The owners gave the newlyweds a gift certificate for a color portrait.

Youths Hurt When Cycles Collide

Two Circleville teens were injured when their motorcycles crashed on a dirt path off Stihl Ave. 4:45 p.m., Wednesday.

John B. Dye, 13, 209 Meadow Drive, suffered multiple fractures to his right leg, and Robert A. Steele, 14, 107 Stihl Ave., suffered a severe laceration to his right foot, and a fractured toe and hand.

Both youths were given emergency treatment at Berger Hospital's emergency room. Dye was admitted to Riverside Hospital, Columbus, while Steele was released following treatment.

According to Deputy Sheriff Jim Fite, the youths collided head on when they were rounding a curve on the dirt path.

Three Cooks Retire From A-C District

W. A. Smith reported to the Board that the progress of the new buildings were practically on schedule, during Amanda-Clearcreek's Board of Education regular meeting.

The board accepted the resignations of Gertrude Schooley, Catherine Goodman and Marie Warner who will be retiring at the close of this school year as cooks in the Amanda cafeteria.

A resolution accepted the Comprehensive Plan for Special Education according to the revised code 3323.08 of the State of Ohio.

The list of graduates as presented by the High School principal was accepted, providing they have met all requirements of the Local Board of Education and the State Board of Education for 1977.

Also accepted were the revised budgets of the Senior Class and the FHA for the 76-77 school year and the budget for the Athletic Department for the 77-78 school year.

Larry Beougher was hired as Reserve Basketball Coach for the next school year.

The board appointed Gary Jenkins, Jeff Arndt, Don Davis, Dan Davis, Wayne Evans and Rebecca Shook to work on leveling process of the baseball diamonds at the Stoutsville building.

The board was informed that the 20 days were waived for the minimum requirement for a school year by the State Department of Education, because of Hazardous weather conditions and lack of fuel. The attendance for the 1976-77 school year will be 160 days.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was lower today, continuing Wednesday's downward trend.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks slipped 2.21 to 924.69 in the early going. Losers outnumbered gainers by a margin of more than 3-2 among New York Stock Exchange listed issues.

Analysts said the market was being held back by concern over the prospect of an increase in the prime interest lending rate. That was one key factor cited in Wednesday's trading slump.

Today's early prices included International Business Machines, off 1/2 at 252 1/4; Gulf Oil, down 3/8 to 27 1/4, and Sony Corp., off 1/4 at 9 1/4.

On Wednesday the Dow industrial average closed down 9.24 at 926.90, wiping out moderate gains of the previous day and deepening the net loss to more than 16 points over the past four trading days.

Losers outnumbered gainers by a margin of 11-7 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Big Board volume was 18.98 million shares Wednesday against 21.09 million the previous day.

The NYSE's composite index lost .32 to 53.98.

On the American Stock Exchange, the market value index was down .21 at 114.04.

Waste Disposal Program Pushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Mahoning County lawmaker wants to establish a statewide waste disposal program to guarantee proper collection, hauling and disposal of garbage, particularly hazardous wastes.

Sen. Harry Meschel, D-33 Youngstown, introduced legislation Wednesday to "ensure that solid and hazardous wastes are properly disposed of, without endangering the financial viability of the waste management industry."

The bill would require the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency to establish regulatory guidelines.

Jobless Claims Spurt Sharply

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Initial unemployment benefit claims shot up 24.2 per cent during the week ending May 7, while continued claims for those out of work for a week or more dropped 2.5 per cent, the Bureau of Employment Services said Tuesday.

BES administrator Albert G. Giles said 14,452 initial claims were filed last week compared to 11,635 the week before. Initial claims under all other programs numbered 2,690 for an overall initial claim total of 17,142. That represents a 19.3 per cent boost over the previous week's 14,372.

Continued claims filed under the regular Ohio law were estimated at 89,500, a 2.5 per cent decrease from the previous week's 91,801.

Out of work Ohioans filing claims under all programs were estimated at 138,557; 121,415 under continued claims and 17,142 under initial claims, a 1.2 per cent increase over the 136,980 total for the week ending April 30.

Giles said that 3,430 persons had exhausted their benefits under all programs during the week ending April 30.

American Farms Being Taken By Developers

HARTLAND FOUR CORNERS, Vt. (AP) — The flatlanders are coming, and sooner or later they'll want to buy Chester Eaton's farm.

Eaton says running a dairy farm on 260 acres of upland soil isn't easy, but he's not about to sell. Eaton says when he looks across his land at the Connecticut River, all the mornings that begin at 4 a.m. in the freezing cold are worth it.

But it's the peaceful quality of this Vermont village and the view of the river that are the very things that are bringing what Hartland residents call "flatlanders" in droves. Second home developments, aimed at city dwellers from New York and Connecticut, are driving land prices and taxes up.

Eaton and small farmers like him across the country have chosen farming because it allows them to be outdoors most of the time, because it's "good, honest work," because it's far away from the complexity and hustle of cities.

But as the land underneath their tractors increases in value, it is awfully tempting to sell the back pasture to a flatlander from "New Yawk Cit-ay" to meet the mortgage.

Farming also means 14-hour work-days and the constant spectre of financial insecurity. Sometimes selling or renting the land can make them just as much money with none of the backbreaking work.

"You struggle all year, there is never enough time in the day to do what you need to do. You have to love it, or you wouldn't be able to stand it," Eaton says.

Eaton shares the farm chores with his son, who also drives a bus for extra income. The family also sells maple sugar they make from sap from the numerous maple trees on their property. And just recently, they sold some hill land off in lots at the edge of the farm.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture notes that there are now only 2.2 million farms in operation today as opposed to 4.1 million just 20 years ago. Some of the attrition represents consolidation of small farms into larger more mechanized operations, but much of the land is no longer being farmed. The flatlanders have got it.

The department attributes the gradual demise of the small farm to the high cost of energy, rising taxes — as land becomes ever more valuable — the uncertainty of agricultural markets and the high cost of mortgage money.

In the White Mountain resort of Conway, N.H., Dave Nichols and his wife say that people are always approaching them and trying to buy their land, which commands a spectacular view of Mt. Washington.

Land values in Conway have skyrocketed in the past 10 years. The high price of land, combined with the uncertainty of milk distribution outlets, mean there are only six farms left in the area.

The town has no zoning ordinance and no building codes, and Nichols says developers have come into town like carpetbaggers and developments are cropping up "worse than weeds."

New Hampshire, in an effort to bolster the lot of independent farmers, has passed a "current use assessment law" which allows the land to be assessed on its worth as farm land rather than its value on the open market.

In total, 42 states in the country have passed such current use laws to preserve open land as a natural resource. Two other states, Wisconsin and Louisiana, have amended their constitutions.

In Michigan, where land values in rural areas are also escalating, farmers are countermarching their normally independent image and banding together to fight against high property taxes.

The current use law might mean a difference in assessment of, say, $300 an acre for farm land and $1,800 an acre for land under development.

Farmland is particularly attractive to developers because it is clear, usually has good drainage and access to roads. It is easy to subdivide and is guaranteed not to have ledge rock five feet down to interfere with foundations.

Vermont taxes its farmers on the land's value on the real estate market, but leaves assessing up to the local listers. In Hartland, the local listers are themselves farmers, and Eaton says assessments remain reasonable.

But the tiny town sits between two major recreational developments — one in nearby Quechee and a second down Vermont 12 in Barnard, which has taken over almost one-tenth of the town. Real estate developers say that it is only a matter of time before the pressures are felt in Hartland.

Hartlanders recently attempted to plan for a future population influx by Forgetting for the moment the impact on fuel consumption and altered lifestyles resulting from whatever energy package is produced in Washington — admittedly a difficult prospect to overlook — what is the effect likely to be on the national economy? We have heard much about the average American's love affair with his auto, but how dependent is the economy on it?

By coincidence, Fortune magazine has published its annual list of the nation's 500 largest corporations, in terms of sales, for 1976. The top five companies last year were Exxon, General Motors, Ford Motor Co., Texaco and Mobile Oil. Several other oil companies and auto industry-related corporations were included in the top 10.

That ranking gives some indication of the scope of the petroleum and automotive fields in the economy. For each of the giants there are hundreds of suppliers, sometimes dependent entirely, sometimes only partially, on the primary industry for their existence.

What it boils down to are millions of jobs, hundreds of billions of dollars in annual sales. In short, as strong a backbone to the economy as one can find. That is why tinkering with the energy and transportation fields is not an endeavor to be undertaken lightly.

Great American Lawn Ethic

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
NEW YORK — The manicured American lawn may be the most decadent and illogical of our traditions.

Achieving a mowed carpet of perfection is an adventure in masochism, and the result is as stimulating as a well-kept cemetery.

Interlopers are not allowed thereon. Out, damned dandelion. God made you gorgeously sunlit, but the master of the house says you foul the emerald symmetry.

At the edge of the lawn, the great American homeowner invests annually in petunias, perhaps, or geraniums, while cursing the pink clover which must be weeded out.

What is the logic for spending long hours with a mower, to create a lawn which is rarely trod upon, except by sniffing neighborhood dogs?

I began pondering this puzzle as a child, when I was generously paid to dig up dandelions from the yard each spring... and then, each summer, was taken on family excursions into the country to see the wild flowers.

To an 8-year-old, a violet in the woods is no more attractive than a dandelion in the backyard — but what do little kids know?

Their minds are not yet cultivated, like the American lawn. They haven't learned the lesson that somehow permeated the national suburban psyche in the early part of the century, when the very rich traveled to Europe by ship and came back with the notion that, to show class, one's grounds should resemble the sculptured gardens at Fontainebleau.

The concept of the manicured lawn, and the close-clipped hedges, and the formal gardens, was decidedly European. But it fit in beautifully with the American Puritan Work Ethic, which dictated that when you came home from the job, you must never let up. Keeping busy was synonymous with a good, moral life style — and nothing kept Americans busier than preserving the pristine flawlessness of the front yard.

In recent decades, with the coming of more leisure and television, the work ethic has subsided as a moral imperative — but still, the perfect-lawn syndrome is so deeply instilled in the suburban psyche that it continues to flourish. Homeowners who are too busy, or too tired, to maintain the legend have made a multi-million dollar business out of lawn-maintenance companies who will weed, seed, aerate, fertilize and mow you for as little as $200 down and months and months to pay.

Foolish? Well, in some communities, it would be foolish not to surround yourself with a rough simulation of a putting green. Many local laws are such that if you let your grass grow freely, and don't wipe out the dandelion population, you're slapped with a fine for neglect.

It's your ground, of course, but others see it, and they consider it offensive if you are not of the same mind as they are. Their minds say that being "civilized" is keeping nature under strict control.

Ironically, while the conventional American lawn spreads across the country, many of our native wildflowers and weeds have become endangered species. The Smithsonian Institution listed 2,032 native plants that are threatened with extinction, and said they should be preserved under the U.S. Endangered Species Act (of 1973).

I have read that there is a grass roots (high grass) movement, largely centered in the Middle West, to bring back "wild yards" as a protest against the costly, environmentally unsound and downright boring national habit of manicuring lawns.

One of the leaders of the crusade is a naturalist and mother from Milwaukee, named Lorrie Otto, who said that rather than seeing disgruntled Americans moving back to nature, she'd rather see nature and the country brought back to cities and suburbs. "I keep thinking about children growing up where so much is false and alike," Mrs. Otto said. "What happens when we raise our children in an endless sea of mowed grass? I worry about other landscapes being dull. Does that make the inner landscape — the mind — of people dull?"

Last year, in the most recent poll to elicit opinions on what should be the national flower, I voted for the dandelion. Because I think they're beautiful. And you can eat them as vegetables. And you can make wine from them. And, if you hold them under your chin, you can find out whether or not you like butter.

But the dandelion came in 28th in the poll. Beaten by the number-one Rose, and 26 other cultivated flowers.

It seemed to be proof that, despite naturalists and weed and wild flower-lovers' efforts, the great American lawn will continue to break the budgets and the backs of the American people.

It's against all logic, and it's against nature, and I dislike the whole concept.

Especially on Friday. That's the day we mow.

Claim U.S. Shunning Taiwan Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, anxious to preserve its fragile relationship with the People's Republic of China, has refused for the past two years to accept the appointment of a new ambassador from Taiwan, according to administration sources.

The officials say U.S. acceptance of a new ambassador could be interpreted in Peking as a sign that the United States is deferring fulfillment of its goal of normalizing relations with the mainland.

For the same reason, the Carter administration has decided not to replace career diplomat Leonard Unger, U.S. ambassador in Taipei since 1974, officials said.

Ambassadorial changes, normally routine business, are complicated in the case of Taiwan, given the commitment of the past three administrations to end government-to-government relations with the island and establish full diplomatic ties with Peking.

Taiwan has been represented here since 1971 by Ambassador James Shen, who assumed his duties two months before former President Richard M. Nixon announced his new China policy. Nixon's moves broke more than two decades of U.S. hostility toward the Peking regime.

U.S. security and diplomatic links with Taiwan have been the main obstacles blocking normalized relations with Peking. A succession of U.S. administrations has been unable to find a formula for ending the links in a way that is politically acceptable.

Public opinion polls indicate strong

U.S. opposition to normalized ties with China if such a move jeopardizes Taiwan's security.

American officials acknowledge the Nixon decision to seek an accommodation with the People's Republic has made Shen's six-year stay here unusually difficult.

World's Phones Take 21 Million Jump

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-one million new telephones were put into operation over the globe during 1975, according to the latest edition of "The World's Telephones," a booklet published annually by the American Telephone and Telegraph's Long Lines department.

The number of telephones as of Jan. 1, 1976, the most recent statistics available, was 379.6 million, an increase of 21.2 million or 5.9 per cent from 1975.

Hong Kong, Taiwan and Turkey moved into the category of having a million or more telephones each, joining 33 other political entities sharing this distinction.

Still at the top of the list is the United States with 148,983,000 telephones. Japan is second with 44,789,101 and the United Kingdom is third with 21,030,053. The Soviet Union's 16,949,000 phones put it in fourth place. Fifth and sixth places are held by Italy with 14,495,672, and France with 13,833,346.

Seek Federal Aid For Prison Books

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Rehabilitation and Correction is seeking a federal grant of $66,756 to upgrade libraries in Ohio's seven prisons.

Harry Morris, administrator of inmate educational services for the department, said the money from the Federal Library Services and Construction Act would be coupled with $129,830 in state funds.

Speaking Of Your Health

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

I was dumbfounded when my father, who lives far away from me, called to tell me that his doctor gives him plain aspirin to prevent a heart attack. Doesn't this sound utterly ridiculous?

Mrs. J.S., Pa.

Dear Mrs. S.:

Small doses of aspirin are considered to be of very special value in the prevention of heart attacks and strokes. In specially chosen cases, aspirin is most desirable and is, in fact, the drug of choice for this purpose.

The use of this chemical is based on the idea that aspirin, in a complex way, is actually a blood-thinner. As such, it reduces the possibility of blood clotting in the arteries that lead to the heart. It is even thought that atherosclerosis, which narrows the blood vessels, may also be beneficially affected by the use of aspirin.

Clinical studies of the value of aspirin are being carefully evaluated. Not all the answers are in yet.

It must be emphatically suggested that no one should undertake a self-programmed regime of aspirin as a preventative of heart attacks. Specific direction by a doctor, with careful observations of the blood picture, is the essence of the safety of this program.

What do you consider to be the best method to treat hemorrhoids?

Mr. B. V., Ky.

Dear Mr. V.:

I assume that the question you ask is related to the type of surgery rather than to the local treatment which is so successful for small, unimportant hemorrhoids.

Injection of small hemorrhoids with sclerosing solutions can be very effective. Many new techniques for surgery have been devised. Some of them markedly reduce the length of stay in the hospital and the post-operative discomfort.

The use of cryosurgery (a freezing technique) is another method which is finding enthusiastic supporters. The particular value of cryosurgery is that it can be performed under local anesthesia and that patients can be discharged from the hospital the day after surgery.

In fact, some of the patients are even able to return to work in two or three days after this procedure is performed.

The choice of how an operation should be done depends entirely on the recommendation of the surgeon as he evaluates each case.

Business World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In the old days some companies might get together to discuss their rising costs and work out a formula for an industrywide price increase.

This was rationalized as being in the best interests of all. Would the public be served by cutthroat competition that would reduce the number of firms in the industry? No. Better to retain stability.

As one executive said: "This is a cyclical business. If we and our competitors get into price wars during the down part of the cycle we won't be around when things move up."

"Then, with undercapacity, the industry won't be able to supply the customer and prices will soar. That's why we have to have stability in this business. It's the only way."

The public wouldn't be told that, of course, because it just wouldn't understand. How could you explain to the public that while a price increase might hurt for the moment it's designed to bring rewards in the long run?

No, customers always think higher prices are unjustified. In a competitive world, customers are interested only in their immediate welfare, not in the welfare of those who service their needs.

Try to explain to customers and immediately they jump to the conclusion that the necessity for raising prices is nothing but a conspiracy against them.

Which is the same conclusion the Justice Department came to less than two decades ago when large electrical products manufacturers were caught fixing bids on equipment supplies to utilities.

Some executives got sentenced for that lack of understanding on the part of the public and its representatives. No joking matter this. The risks of secret agreement weren't worth the rewards.

Agreements now are out in the open, and if anything, the communications are better for it. The results aren't much different — prices go up — but instead of scorn the companies might be praised for their selfless patriotism.

You still begin with the need. Your costs are rising, and you know very well that the costs of your competitors are rising too. Something must be done. You make a speech.

In that speech you list the reasons why a price increase is needed. Wages are up, the cost of borrowing is up, plants must be modernized, capital must be raised, shareholders must be encouraged.

You make certain that nobody construes your speech in itself as a price increase. You stress that you are not raising prices, but that developing factors would seem to make an increase of ... necessary in the next two months.

Your competitors then make their own speeches, in which they refine the argument and state what they feel is a fair increase. It may be higher, or perhaps a bit lower. Whatever, the signals are becoming clear.

A price increase is announced by one company. Rather than all others immediately falling in line as in the past, they follow one by one with various rates, almost all higher than what they'll settle for.

Outraged, the government's Council on Wage and Price Stability announces that the increases are uncalled for. It points out that even at present prices the domestic product is much higher than imports.

It might even remind the companies publicly that the industry has an appeal before the government for relief from low-priced imports. It terms the increases unjustified.

Before the process becomes solidified, it calls to Washington one of the industry's major companies that to this point has withheld its own announcement.

The council members tell the major company it agrees that relief is necessary but that it shouldn't come all at once. It asks for restraint in the name of anti-inflation. Where's your patriotism, it asks?

The major company returns to its home offices and prepares an announcement. Despite the need for vastly greater relief, it says, it is voluntarily limiting its price increase to ... per cent.

It also reminds the public that sacrifice of this sort cannot be expected to continue, and that indeed prices might be forced up again before the end of the year.

The others ratify the big company's increase. Praise is distributed.

Grass should be kept at a level of two inches or higher, says the Colorado State University Extension Service, which recommends that a lawn be cut fairly often so that no more than one-third of the grass blade is cut off. Otherwise, the grass blades suffer excessive shock and turn yellow.

But the dandelion came in 28th in the poll. Beaten by the number-one Rose, and 26 other cultivated flowers.

It seemed to be proof that, despite naturalists and weed and wild flower-lovers' efforts, the great American lawn will continue to break the budgets and the backs of the American people.

It's against all logic, and it's against nature, and I dislike the whole concept.

Especially on Friday. That's the day we mow.

Claim U.S. Shunning Taiwan Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, anxious to preserve its fragile relationship with the People's Republic of China, has refused for the past two years to accept the appointment of a new ambassador from Taiwan, according to administration sources.

The officials say U.S. acceptance of a new ambassador could be interpreted in Peking as a sign that the United States is deferring fulfillment of its goal of normalizing relations with the mainland.

For the same reason, the Carter administration has decided not to replace career diplomat Leonard Unger, U.S. ambassador in Taipei since 1974, officials said.

Ambassadorial changes, normally routine business, are complicated in the case of Taiwan, given the commitment of the past three administrations to end government-to-government relations with the island and establish full diplomatic ties with Peking.

Taiwan has been represented here since 1971 by Ambassador James Shen, who assumed his duties two months before former President Richard M. Nixon announced his new China policy. Nixon's moves broke more than two decades of U.S. hostility toward the Peking regime.

U.S. security and diplomatic links with Taiwan have been the main obstacles blocking normalized relations with Peking. A succession of U.S. administrations has been unable to find a formula for ending the links in a way that is politically acceptable.

Public opinion polls indicate strong

U.S. opposition to normalized ties with China if such a move jeopardizes Taiwan's security.

American officials acknowledge the Nixon decision to seek an accommodation with the People's Republic has made Shen's six-year stay here unusually difficult.

World's Phones Take 21 Million Jump

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-one million new telephones were put into operation over the globe during 1975, according to the latest edition of "The World's Telephones," a booklet published annually by the American Telephone and Telegraph's Long Lines department.

The number of telephones as of Jan. 1, 1976, the most recent statistics available, was 379.6 million, an increase of 21.2 million or 5.9 per cent from 1975.

Hong Kong, Taiwan and Turkey moved into the category of having a million or more telephones each, joining 33 other political entities sharing this distinction.

Still at the top of the list is the United States with 148,983,000 telephones. Japan is second with 44,789,101 and the United Kingdom is third with 21,030,053. The Soviet Union's 16,949,000 phones put it in fourth place. Fifth and sixth places are held by Italy with 14,495,677, and France with 13,833,346.

Seek Federal Aid

For Prison Books
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Department of Rehabilitation and Correction is seeking a federal grant of $66,756 to upgrade libraries in Ohio's seven prisons.

Harry Morris, administrator of inmate educational services for the department, said the money from the Federal Library Services and Construction Act would be coupled with $129,830 in state funds.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

A Boy Babysitter — And Proud Of it!

DEAR ABBY: The problem is not with me but with some people I know. First, I am a boy.

Why do they think it's "un-masculine" for a boy to babysit? I'm a senior in high school and I've been babysitting since junior high. I have sat with children as young as four days old and some were ten, and eleven years old. I don't say this in a bragging way, but some of the people who have hired me say I'm better than most girl babysitters my age.

I like children, and I really enjoy babysitting. Besides I think it's good practice for fatherhood. (Not to mention the money I'm saving for college.)

I hope this makes your column. A lot of us boy sitters who get teased for doing "sissy" work would appreciate it.

BOY BABYSITTER

DEAR BOY: My hat is off to you and to all the other boys who enjoy babysitting and regard it as good training for fatherhood. And what a compliment to be left in charge of parents' most precious possession—their children!

DEAR ABBY: Recently I drove through a small "art-colony" village in Pennsylvania, which is normally frequented by tourists.

I got the shock of my life when I saw about 75 young people all dressed alike in blue denim! I wondered if there had been a prison break, or an invasion of the "Union Army."

What is it with our young people? They have about as much individuality as connected sausage links. They all look alike. Same dress, same jeans, same long straight hair—it's hard to tell one from the other. Go anywhere young people gather, high schools, colleges, social affairs, it's the same story. Why are they afraid to be different?

It wasn't like that 20 years ago. Kids looked and acted like individuals and enjoyed it.

WONDERING WANDERER

DEAR WANDERER: The young people who dress uniformly today do so because they want to identify with each other. There is comfort and security in "belonging" to a gang, group or band. And if it makes them happier, what's the harm?

DEAR ABBY: Please help me! I am pregnant, but I never went all the way. I know that's hard to believe, but it is true, so help me God!

I'm 17, (so is he) and we have gone steady for a year and five months, were Mrs. Emma Grewell, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff C. Cook of Marysville, Mrs. Sue Arbogast and daughters.

during which time we did a lot of very heavy petting, but I swear to you that I am a virgin. We came close, but never actually went all the way.

How can I get my parents to believe me? They will think I am lying for sure. Have you ever heard of this ever happening to anyone else?

Please help me. We love each other very much, are graduating in June and plan to be married.

NEEDING HELP

DEAR NEEDING: Yes, I have heard of such cases. It is indeed possible for a girl to become pregnant and remain a virgin. Girls who do everything "but" qualify only as technical virgins, but virgins they are.

Kenter Committed To Lima Hospital

CINCINNATI (AP) — Paul Roger Kenter, 32, a mental patient accused of murder in the deaths of his parents on the grounds of Longview State Hospital, has been declared incapable of standing trial.

Hamilton County Common Pleas Judge Frank Gusweiler ordered Kenter confined indefinitely to Lima State Hospital.

Police said William and Osa Kenter of suburban North College Hill were shot to death March 15 as they returned their son to the hospital. Relatives said Kenter had escaped from the mental facility numerous times since he was confined in 1971.

Same dress, same jeans, same long straight hair—it's hard to tell one from the other. Go anywhere young people gather, high schools, colleges, social affairs, it's the same story. Why are they afraid to be different?

It wasn't like that 20 years ago. Kids looked and acted like individuals and enjoyed it.

WONDERING WANDERER

DEAR WANDERER: The young people who dress uniform today do so because they want to identify with each other. There is comfort and security in "belonging" to a gang, group or band. And if it makes them happier, what's the harm?

DEAR ABBY: Please help me! I am pregnant, but I never went all the way. I know that's hard to believe, but it is true, so help me God!

I'm 17, (so is he) and we have gone steady for a year and five months, were Mrs. Emma Grewell, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff C. Cook of Marysville, Mrs. Sue Arbogast and daughters.

during which time we did a lot of very heavy petting, but I swear to you that I am a virgin. We came close, but never actually went all the way.

How can I get my parents to believe me? They will think I am lying for sure. Have you ever heard of this ever happening to anyone else?

Please help me. We love each other very much, are graduating in June and plan to be married.

NEEDING HELP

DEAR NEEDING: Yes, I have heard of such cases. It is indeed possible for a girl to become pregnant and remain a virgin. Girls who do everything "but" qualify only as technical virgins, but virgins they are.

Kenter Committed To Lima Hospital

CINCINNATI (AP) — Paul Roger Kenter, 32, a mental patient accused of murder in the deaths of his parents on the grounds of Longview State Hospital, has been declared incapable of standing trial.

Hamilton County Common Pleas Judge Frank Gusweiler ordered Kenter confined indefinitely to Lima State Hospital.

Police said William and Osa Kenter of suburban North College Hill were shot to death March 15 as they returned their son to the hospital. Relatives said Kenter had escaped from the mental facility numerous times since he was confined in 1971.

Mothers Honored By Chapter 90 OES

Mothers were honored when Circleville Chapter 90, Order of the Eastern Star, met Tuesday evening in the Masonic Temple.

Betsy French, worthy matron, paid a special tribute to her mother, Miriam Barnhart, and shared a gift which had been given her by her son, Shawn.

Clarence Radcliffe, worthy patron, read "What is a Mother?" and all mothers present received a gift from the worthy matron and patron.

Honored members present included Marie L. Hamilton, past grand matron of the Grand Chapter of Ohio; past matrons, Elaine Bowman, Mary Radcliffe, Pauline Cook, Betty LeMay, Leona Riegel, Irma Sharpe, Miriam Barnhart, Faye Mahaffey, Geneva Brink, Betty Liston, Donna Foreman, Margaret Shane and Kathryn Thomerson; and past patrons, Byron LeMay, Robert Liston, William Hall and Clarence Radcliffe. Fifty year members present were Ina Smith, Faye Mahaffey, Mabel Towers, Lucille Scott and Marie L. Hamilton.

The chapter's charter was draped and a moment of silent prayer was observed in memory of Clara Woltz.

An invitation was received from Chillicothe Chapter 419 to attend the grand inspection of their chapter on May 21 at 7:30 p.m.

Club 19 is sponsoring a First Annual Day at Kings Island on August 27 for members and families of Masonic affiliated bodies.

Remarks were given by Marie L. Hamilton relative to Madeline Murray O'Hara's demands that religious programming on radio and television be banned.

Annual inspection of the chapter will be held at the next regular meeting on May 24. Inspecting officer will be Kay Ritenour, Deputy Grand Matron of District 23.

After the close of chapter, refreshments were served by Miriam Barnhart, Almada Hill, Lucille Scott and Marie L. Hamilton.

'Spring Is Beautiful' Theme For Flower Show

Sixteen members were present when the Monrovia Garden Club held their meeting Monday evening.

Mrs. Doris Hoover has returned to work at Orient Institute following surgery three weeks ago.

Mrs. Betty Ehman broke her ankle last Saturday when she fell down the steps from her kitchen to the garage.

Mrs. Evelyn Kauffeld suffered a badly sprained ankle when she fell at her home last Saturday.

Last Friday night Joni Hensel entertained some of her friends to a slumber party. The guests were: Kim Good, Pam Foster, Topsy Morrison, Sarah Sofreko, Valerie and Sheila Friend, Terri Hayes, and Lori Hively. They started out with a cook out and continued the evening playing all kinds of games, and finally listening to records until the wee hours of daylight.

Congratulations go to Ronald L. Davie and Lorraine Burkhardt. They were married at the Commercial Point United Methodist Church at 3 p.m. May 7. A reception followed at the Urban Hall Party Home.

The Brownie Troop enjoyed an afternoon of bowling at Stardust Lanes, Wednesday. About 20 girls and their leaders enjoyed the activity.

The Council met in session at the Child Development Sets Birthday Party

A Children's Birthday Party for the Child Development League will be held from 1:30-3:30 p.m., May 14 at the home of Mrs. Harold Morton, 8294 Trimmer Road.

In an effort to keep society news current, The Herald has established the following policy concerning wedding news:

Wedding forms may be obtained at The Herald from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday.

It would be helpful to have the wedding form completed and returned with a picture three days before the wedding.

The Herald will make every effort to publish the story and picture on the next day of publication following the wedding providing the forms and picture are returned before the wedding.

No bridal pictures and stories will be accepted if submitted later than 30 days following the ceremony.

Municipal building Monday night. The discussion centered on our sewage system which gets nearer each meeting. The public is invited to attend these meetings held the first Monday of the month.

Harry Smith is in University Hospital recovering from surgery last week. He is in room 628. Cards would be greatly appreciated.

Denise Thomas, a member of the Freewill Grace Baptist Church will be entering University Hospital Monday for a very serious operation, so let us all offer prayers that she gets along very well and on her feet soon.

Mothers Day Dinner guests of the George Null's were Orren and Polly Lawless of Clark Lakes.

All mothers attending church at the Grace Baptist Church today were presented a beautiful geranium upon leaving Church.

At this writing, word has it that Howard Neff still in Grant Hospital is out of Intensive Care and some of the machines taken off as he is showing an improvement at this time.

Mrs. Dee Topping will entertain the Philathea Club at her home on May 10. The program will be handbags.

Mrs. Edith Williams was taken to the Southeast Conservation Club House for a Mothers Day Dinner by her daughter, Pearlene Mays, her husband, Gene and their children. She enjoyed a most delicious chicken dinner.

High Court Plans For Recess

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Supreme Court heard the last oral arguments of the winter session Tuesday as the justices began clearing their calendar for the upcoming summer recess.

The end of arguments does not mean the justices will not consider cases between now and the recess but that attorneys will not be back before the bench until next September. The seven-member panel will continue to make decisions about cases it will hear and make rulings on cases already heard. The court began the current session last January.

Some of the more notable decisions of the session include a ruling on the fluoridation of Cincinnati drinking water and the ease with which police may receive a search warrant.

In the Cincinnati water case, a group of citizens fighting fluoridation were unsuccessful in having the court overturn an order by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency that the water be treated.

The justices, in a 5-2 decision, said that arguments that fluoridation abridges religious freedom and the right to equal protection should have been settled in lower court arguments and not have been raised for the first time before the court.

The court had already refused to hear a similar case and said in the most recent one that the citizens should have taken their appeal to the Ohio Environmental Board of Review to seek a reversal of the EPA order.

The justices noted, however, that the citizens' charge that fluoride was a cancer-causing agent was disturbing but without sufficient substantiation.

The ruling on search warrant issuance also came out of a Cincinnati case where police searched an ap-partment in 1974 and discovered narcotics.

The evidence was used to convict Larry Gill, the resident of the apartment, on charges of illegal possession of narcotics and possession for sale of narcotics.

Gill took the case to the appellate court and won a reversal. The Supreme Court agreed, saying that issuance of a search warrant requires that the judge decide if there is probable cause to believe criminal activity has taken place on the premises.

The justices ruled 6-1 that a policeman may not get a search warrant simply because an informant says crimes are being committed.

The court also affirmed its directions on access to state records. In that case a beauty supply firm had sought a list of all licensed beauty operators and beauty parlors in the state. The Board of Cosmetology refused to supply the list at the supply firm's expense saying it was against state policy to supply such mailing lists.

The court ruled the board acted contrary to open records rulings saying any record a public agency is required to keep must be open for inspection and duplication.

The high court also has ruled that Cincinnati Bell Telephone Co. should be allowed to continue charging its customers 20 cents for each directory assistance call a month above a limit of three free calls. The system is the fairest to all customers, the court ruled.

AT BOOKS IN THE CHILDREN'S LIBRARY

Don't forget our Movie Hour this Saturday at 2 p.m. "Really Rosie," a cartoon menagerie by Maurice Sendak with Carol King singing the songs, and "Evan's Corner," a children's book, will comprise the one-hour program.

New books are coming in just in time to fill the shelves before the summer rush. In the picture book category are "Professor Wormbog in Search for the Zipperump-a-Zoo" by Mercer Mayer and "The Land of the Lost Things," by Mort Walker.

In the fairy tale bookcase (398.2) is Anne Rockwell's "The Three Bears and 15 Other Stories." Cheerful bright illustrations on each page should make this collection of classic stories a favorite.

"Teach Us, Amelia Bedelia" is a new feature in the Easy-Reader section. Once again author Peggy Parish invites her readers to share a frolic with her well known literal-minded maid. This time Amelia Bedelia is accidentally asked to substitute for a teacher, and the results are hilarious.

Older fiction includes Barbara Byfield's "Andrew and the Alchemist." In this mystery Andrew, an eleven-year-old orphan, becomes apprenticed to an alchemist and begins a life of adventure.

"Dupper," by Betty Baker, relates the adventures of a prairie dog and his friends. Here, fantasy and reality are blended as Dupper discovers his difference from the other prairie dogs in the community.

In nonfiction "Understanding Animals as Pets" should be of use to many children. Beginning by telling how to select a pet, the book continues to give pointers on caring for standard pets as well as some wild animals. (636)

We don't get to see coconuts growing in Ohio, but you can learn all about them from "Coconut, the Tree of Life." This illustrated text discusses the growth, cultivation, processing, and uses of this fruit and even includes thirty coconut recipes. Wake up with "Coconut Pancakes" tomorrow! (641.3)

For a fascinating behind-the-scenes look at your house, try "All about Houses." Catch a glimpse of styles of housing from prehistoric times through the 20th century, and then discover just how houses are put together today and how various systems in them work. Just a few of the interesting topics covered in the latter part of the book are faucets, furnaces, light switches, fuses, and doorbells. (728)

Recommended for all children but especially for siblings of a retarded child is "My Brother Steven Is Retarded." Here, an eleven-year-old girl talks about the mixed feelings she has for her older, mentally retarded brother. Using many photographs, the situation is frankly but sensitively done. (362.7)

See you Saturday at 2:00!

GTE Trains Area Employees

Two area residents of General Telephone Co. of Ohio have completed a course at the company's technical training school at Marion.

They are: William A. Keener of 2015 Ottawa, and Lawrence H. Sullenberger of 207 Mill Street, Williamsport. Each works in the company's Circleville district.

Electronic test equipment is used in this two-week course, the most advanced for cable splicers, to check new cables and bring voice transmission to an acceptable level.

There are more than 90 courses and seminars at the technical training school. Classroom training helps employees develop job skills and keep pace with changes in telephone technology.

Thomasville's TABLEAU has offered homemakers an exceptionally fine, authentic Louis XV provincial design for more than a decade. TABLEAU features beautiful walnut veneer in striking grain configurations on tops and end panels. Choice native pecan solids are used for the heavy, shaped drawer fronts, posts, parting rails and base rails. A mellow fruitwood tone enhances the native pecan solids, walnut veneers and wood products carefully selected and blended together by skilled craftsmen. Hand rubbing, shading and glazing create a custom finish with the look of fine antique originals. TABLEAU is for customers who appreciate furniture with historical significance and have a flair for creating 18th century countryside rooms. Whether selected for the formal dining room or dining area, TABLEAU offers you the French Provincial beauty and Thomasville quality that your home deserves.

Here is a rugged, all wood suite based on the charming designs originating during the early days of our nation. Litchfield's design details include the bracket foot, colonial spine box motifs, doors with cross bracing and an authentic arch. These knotty oak solids and veneers are carefully selected for the naturalness of the knots and their grain character. Specially selected hardware designs feature attractive willow motifs, and dramatically set off the wood tone. Litchfield—exceptional value and craftsmanship for the most modest budget.

Four Winds

HUNTLEY FURNITURE by Thomasville

Four Winds is contemporary furniture with sleek, clean, architectural lines, stated in several levels of moldings and overlays. Deeply set drawer fronts are framed with an important rectilinear molding for beauty which also becomes the functional, unobtrusive drawer pull. Oak veneers, oak solids and wood products are blended together to provide an informal character and theme with handsome graining. The natural brown tone finish will blend beautifully with today's popular color schemes. Designed and constructed to give you quality furnishings at a popular price. Four Winds offers you the casual, contemporary beauty your home deserves.

Borghese

HUNTLEY FURNITURE by Thomasville

Here's a wealth of Mediterranean design motifs rarely found on suites at modest prices. Bold classical shaped molding, flush-to-the-floor styling with recessed plinth bases, and acanthus leaf details on end posts are features that give Borghese extra richness. This handsome all wood design, crafted of cherry veneers, is finished in a rare mid-range fruitwood shade, and a few decorative paint adds a freshness to any room setting. Custom hardware in the classic tradition is the crowning touch of beauty.

High Court Plans For Recess

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Supreme Court heard the last oral arguments of the winter session Tuesday as the justices began clearing their calendar for the upcoming summer recess.

The end of arguments does not mean the justices will not consider cases between now and the recess but that attorneys will not be back before the bench until next September. The seven-member panel will continue to make decisions about cases it will hear and make rulings on cases already heard. The court began the current session last January.

Some of the more notable decisions of the session include a ruling on the fluoridation of Cincinnati drinking water and the ease with which police may receive a search warrant.

In the Cincinnati water case, a group of citizens fighting fluoridation were unsuccessful in having the court overturn an order by the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency that the water be treated.

The justices, in a 5-2 decision, said that arguments that fluoridation abridges religious freedom and the right to equal protection should have been settled in lower court arguments and not have been raised for the first time before the court.

The court had already refused to hear a similar case and said in the most recent one that the citizens should have taken their appeal to the Ohio Environmental Board of Review to seek a reversal of the EPA order.

The justices noted, however, that the citizens' charge that fluoride was a cancer-causing agent was disturbing but without sufficient substantiation.

The ruling on search warrant issuance also came out of a Cincinnati case where police searched an ap-partment in 1974 and discovered narcotics.

The evidence was used to convict Larry Gill, the resident of the apartment, on charges of illegal possession of narcotics and possession for sale of narcotics.

Gill took the case to the appellate court and won a reversal. The Supreme Court agreed, saying that issuance of a search warrant requires that the judge decide if there is probable cause to believe criminal activity has taken place on the premises.

The justices ruled 6-1 that a policeman may not get a search warrant simply because an informant says crimes are being committed.

The court also affirmed its directions on access to state records. In that case a beauty supply firm had sought a list of all licensed beauty operators and beauty parlors in the state. The Board of Cosmetology refused to supply the list at the supply firm's expense saying it was against state policy to supply such mailing lists.

The court ruled the board acted contrary to open records rulings saying any record a public agency is required to keep must be open for inspection and duplication.

Ohio Retail Sales Increase In March

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's retail sales increased by 1 per cent in March over the the previous month after seasonal adjustments, according to Ohio State University's center for business and economic research.

Before adjustment March sales showed a 17 per cent increase. The center said March sales were up 9 per cent over the same month in 1976.

First quarter sales for 1977 were 7 per cent higher than the same period last year.

The center surveys 25 retailing categories. Of these only filling stations, down 12 per cent; glass and wallpaper stores, down 3 per cent; and department stores and shoe stores, both down 1 per cent, showed declines in the March-to-March comparison.

Fuel dealer sales were up 96 per cent in March over the same month one year ago while sales for heating, plumbing and electrical supply store increased 33 per cent and drug stores were up 38 per cent.

Cumulative sales for the first quarter of the year showed almost half (12) of the 25 categories reporting lower sales than for the same period last year.

Regionally all 11 major city-county areas, and the Ohio areas outside those cities surveyed, showed sales increases in March as compared with the same month of 1976. Only the Canton area showed a fractional decline in the first three months of the year compared with the first quarter of 1976.

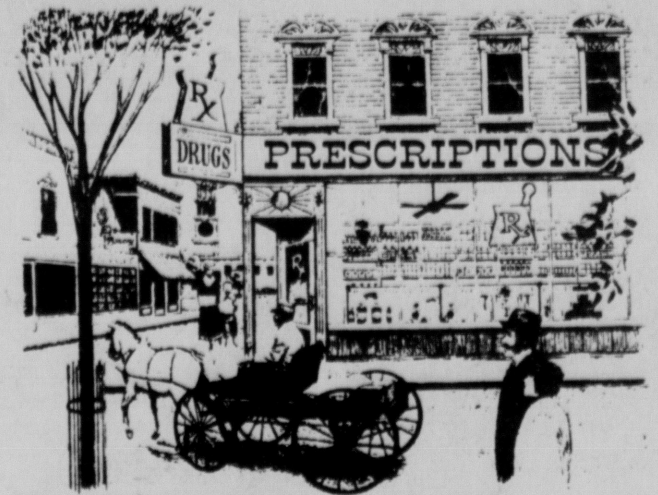

March increases from the previous March, followed in parentheses by increases for the first three months of the year as compared with 1976 levels, were:

Akron, up 9 per cent (up 2 per cent); Canton, up 6 per cent (down fractionally); Chillicothe, up 17 per cent (up 3 per cent); Cincinnati, up 4 per cent (up 2 per cent); Cleveland, up 10 per cent (up 4 per cent); Columbus, up 8 per cent (up 4 per cent); Dayton, up 5 per cent (up fractionally); Hamilton-Middletown, up 9 per cent (up 3 per cent); Portsmouth, up 12 per cent (up 7 per cent); Toledo, up 7 per cent (up 3 per cent).

The Volunteer Firemen answered a call on May 6 to the home of Kenneth Logan, 5067 Nelson Drive, South Bloomfield. A broken gas line, gas turned off at meter, no damage.

Thursday Morning Crackpots fifth Bowling Banquet was held Thursday evening, May 5, at the K.P. Hall with the Pythian Sisters serving a delicious family style chicken and roast beef dinner.

Special guests for the evening were Penny Dietrick of Circle D; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ray, sponsors of Charlie's Girls and Sue Toole sponsor of Lovely Lady I and II.

Business meeting was conducted by President Shirley Thompson and Secretary-Treasurer report given by Bev Agin. Election of officers was held with Shirley Thompson re-elected as president; vice-president, Donna Carter; Secretary-Treasurer Bev Agin; Sergeant at Arms Maxine Hoover.

The meeting was adjourned and turned over to the awarding of trophies and prizes.

Andy's Market received first place trophy with Mary Lombardo, Donna Ward, Dorothy Cook and Linda Glitt each receiving trophies. Second place trophies went to members of Charlie's Girls, Ruth Mitcham, Bev Agin, Carol Debo and Shirley Thompson.

Juanita Crabtree received high scratch game trophy for a 245. Linda Glitt received a trophy for high scratch series of 610. Linda also received a patch from WIBC for high series.

High game with handicap went to Debbie Forquer with a 256 and Hazel Spurrlock won high series with handicap for a 602.

Most improved bowler for the year was Helen Walker. She improved 20 pins over last years average. Debbie Forquer was a close runner for this award also. This is a WIBC award.

Juanita Crabtree and Debbie Forquer also received patches from WIBC for having bowled games 100 pins over their average.

Carol Debo was the winner of the lovely bowling bag given annually by Penny and Larry Dietrick of Circle D.

The Crackpots wish to thank Larry and Penny, Mildred and Mrs. Young for a lovely year of bowling.

The annual Memorial Day Dinner will be served Monday, May 30, in the South Bloomfield Municipal Building by members of the South Bloomfield United Methodist Church. Serving will begin at 11 a.m.

Community Bible School will be held this year June 6 through the 10. All children in the community four years of age and older are welcome to attend.

The seventh meeting of the TV Variety 4-H Club was held May 5 at the Ashville School. The meeting was called to order by the president. The 4-H pledge was led by Kim Riley and the American Pledge was led by Tad Cromley. Twenty-five members answered roll call by naming a part of the body.

The members voted to go camping at Airy Acres on Memorial Day weekend. Nine members will ride in the Cancer Bike-a-thon May 14th. The meeting for May 12 has been cancelled.

Robert Muncy made a motion to adjourn the meeting. Kerry Keller seconded it. The next meeting will be held May 26 at the Ashville School.

Refreshments were served by Brad Six and Steve Smiley.

The Ashville Ministerial Association is now making plans for the second annual 4th of July Church Service to be held in the Village Park on July 3 at 10:30 a.m.

The annual Mother-Daughter Banquet of the Village United Methodist Church was held last Saturday evening in the church basement. The tables were decorated in the Springtime theme with potted plants centering each table.

Table Grace was given by Louise Morrow. A delicious turkey dinner, prepared and served by the men of the church, was served to the guests.

Following the dinner the guests enjoyed the program in the church sanctuary. Connie Morrison gave a reading on Grandmothers and she presented two vocal solos. Helen Toole, president of the UMW gave the welcome and gave two readings, Mothers and My Mother in Heaven. Mrs. Toole then presented Mrs. Karen Arney of Circleville who had a puppet show. The theme of the puppet show started as the story of Cinderella however instead of a Fairy Godmother, Cinderella had a Guardian Angel and the prince was the Prince of Peace. The show was enjoyed by the mothers and daughters alike.

Following the program each guest received a gift from Mrs. Toole which she had made.

The Ashville Pythian Sisters will meet at the K. P. Hall Tuesday evening for their annual inspection. Diana Reed of Stoutsville, serving as District Deputy, will be the inspecting officer.

Mrs. Rose Berkhermer is announcing she has moved her restaurant in South Bloomfield from the Inn to Alfie's Place.

Provided it isn't raining, and provided the movers have the station set in place, we'll start scraping the building at 1 p.m. this Saturday afternoon. C'mon out and bring a scraper with you.

We still need a door two feet ten inches wide to replace the old front door.

See you this Saturday.

Senior Recognition Day will be observed this Sunday at the Hedges Chapel United Methodist Church. The dinner will be held at the noon hour following the morning worship service. Those being honored are Wesley Hedges, Joyce Woolever, Eddie Thompson, Allen Atkinson, Jeff Pontius, Beth Pratt.

The Seniors at the Village Church will be honored with a dinner on Sunday evening, May 22.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Earl Reed announce the marriage of their daughter, Carole R. Brown, to Mr. Charles Robert Debo, son of Mrs. Magdalene Terry of Ironton, Ohio. The marriage was performed April 28 in the First English Lutheran Church, Ashville, by Pastor W. F. Bittkofer. The children Sandy and Julie Brown and Mike Debo stood up with their parents.

Others present were Carole's brother, wife and children, Bob's sisters and aunt from Ironton and the girl's grandparents and great grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Brown and Harry Brown. A reception was held in the home of the bride.

The newlyweds then departed for a trip south and east. They are now at home at 687 West Main St.

Guests last Friday of Mrs. Elda Behnke were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Strauser and the former's cousin, Miss Martha Cochran all of Mount Vernon, Ohio. Miss Cochran was a teacher with Mrs. Behnke and Mrs. Strauser is a former pupil.

The May meeting of the Women's Civic Club was held at the home of Mrs. Curtis Cromley.

Mrs. Alred Axe presented Devotions with a Spring theme - Mark 5:30-33 and a poem, "The Miracle of Seeds," by Edgar Guest.

Deputy Sheriff, Bill Dountz, was the guest speaker. He had a display of drugs, pipes and other items that are now being used. He gave an interesting and informative talk on these items and the drug and alcohol problem today.

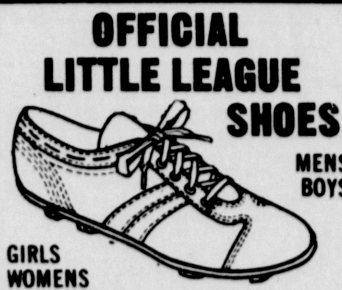

Mrs. Thomas Purcell, president, conducted the business meeting. She presented material from the Community Improvement Program and the club agreed to enter the contest sponsored by the CIP organization. Members were urged to work on the old railroad station whenever possible.

It was reported that Jan Deal is the club's representative to Girls' State. Mrs. Lawrence Fullen and Mrs. Elwood Morrison attended the District meeting in Dayton the last of April and Mrs. Fullen gave a brief summary of the meeting. Our club is now a member of the Central District.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Cromley and assisting hostesses Mrs. Stanley Bowers, Mrs. Martha Brinker and Mrs. Victor Curry.

Winners of the Draw Your Morn Contest at Featheringham's Gift Shop were; Dawn Justice, age 5, of Kingston; Tammy Hothan, age 8 of Kingston and Rodney Campbell, age 11 of Ashville.

Ohio Retail Sales Increase In March

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's retail sales increased by 1 per cent in March over the the previous month after seasonal adjustments, according to Ohio State University's center for business and economic research.

Before adjustment March sales showed a 17 per cent increase. The center said March sales were up 9 per cent over the same month in 1976.

First quarter sales for 1977 were 7 per cent higher than the same period last year.

The center surveys 25 retailing categories. Of these only filling stations, down 12 per cent; glass and wallpaper stores, down 3 per cent; and department stores and shoe stores, both down 1 per cent, showed declines in the March-to-March comparison.

Fuel dealer sales were up 96 per cent in March over the same month one-year ago while sales for heating, plumbing and electrical supply store increased 33 per cent and drug stores were up 38 per cent.

Cumulative sales for the first quarter of the year showed almost half (12) of the 25 categories reporting lower sales than for the same period last year.

Regionally all 11 major city-county areas, and the Ohio areas outside those cities surveyed, showed sales increases in March as compared with the same month of 1976. Only the Canton area showed a fractional decline in the first three months of the year compared with the first quarter of 1976.

March increases from the previous March, followed in parentheses by increases for the first three months of the year as compared with 1976 levels, were:

Akron, up 9 per cent (up 2 per cent); Canton, up 6 per cent (down fractionally); Chillicothe, up 17 per cent (up 3 per cent); Cincinnati, up 4 per cent (up 2 per cent); Cleveland, up 10 per cent (up 4 per cent); Columbus, up 8 per cent (up 4 per cent); Dayton up 5 per cent (up fractionally); Hamilton-Middletown, up 9 per cent (up 3 per cent); Portsmouth, up 12 per cent (up 7 per cent); Toledo, up 7 per cent (up 3 per cent).

KENYON PRESIDENT PHILIP H. JORDAN and STEPHEN PENN

Stephen M. Penn, 503 Springhollow Road, received the Chemical Rubber Company Chemistry Achievement Award at the Kenyon College Honors Day ceremony Tuesday. He is a Kenyon freshman.

The Chemical Rubber Company Chemistry Achievement Award is given each year to the freshman enrolled in Chemistry 11-12 who, in the opinion of the Department, is doing outstanding work in the course.

Penn is given the award by Kenyon President Philip H. Jordan.

Stephen Watters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dixie L. Watters, 818 S. Court St., Circleville will portray the Executioner in the Muskingum College Children's Theatre class production of Alice in Wonderland.

The Lewis Carroll classic will be presented to children in the New Concord area school districts.

Dick Smothers Now Wine Grower

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Dick Smothers has walked away from the bright lights and applause into the dusty world of irrigation and sugar content as a wine grape grower.

Since July, when Dick and Tom Smothers broke up their famous brother act after more than 17 years, he, his wife, Linda, and their three children have lived quietly on a ranch in the Santa Cruz mountains, where they are cultivating 13 acres for premium white wines.

He expects the first bottling of his wine, under the label Vine Hill Wine, to be done this fall.

Education Head To Receive Degree

ADA, Ohio (AP) — Won Sul Lee, secretary general of the International Association of University Presidents, will be awarded an honorary doctor of literature degree from Ohio Northern University during commencement exercises May 22.

Dr. Lee, a native of Korea, graduated from Ohio Northern in 1957 with a bachelor of arts degree in political science. He received his masters in international relations in 1958 from Case Western Reserve and earned a doctorate in history there in 1961.

He is dean of the graduate school at Kyung Hee University in Seoul, Korea.

High Court Decides In Airlines Favor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Supreme Court has decided that if you are bumped from an airline flight even though your reservation is confirmed all you are entitled to is a night's lodging.

Justin S. Kalish of Columbus held a confirmed ticket and had turned his baggage over to Trans World Airlines in preparing to board an Oct. 19, 1973 flight from Philadelphia to Columbus. While standing in line to board the plane he learned all the seats on the plane were filled.

Kalish boarded the plane nevertheless and refused seven requests to leave. Police were called and he was handcuffed and jailed.

Kalish filed a suit in Franklin County Common Pleas Court charging the airline with humiliating him, overbooking, false arrest and false imprisonment. For those alleged actions he was seeking punitive damages.

At the trial, TWA offered no defense of the charges but won on each count, with the exception of being ordered to pay Kalish $32 for his overnight stay in Philadelphia.

Kalish took the case to the 10th District Court of Appeals and again lost. In asking the Supreme Court to reverse his earlier losses, Kalish added a new charge including federal statute violations.

The Supreme Court rejected his contention because, it said, the federal statute argument should first have been settled in the lower courts.

In other action Wednesday, the court:

—Ruled that the state Department of Education may assign a school district to a joint vocational district and then design the contract covering the services provided the district by the vocational system.

The state board in August 1974 assigned Hamilton Local School District to the Eastland Vocation Center. Eastland sued in Franklin County Common Pleas Court over the assignment but lost. Eastland then took the case to the appellate court and won a reversal of the assignment.

The state board then appealed to the Supreme Court and won a reversal of the appellate court action and a confirmation of its power to assign school districts to the vocational districts.

Coleman Named Cuyahoga Judge

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Frederick M. Coleman, U.S. attorney for northern Ohio, was named by Gov. James A. Rhodes on Wednesday as judge of the General Division of the Cuyahoga County Common Pleas Court in Cleveland.

Coleman, who has held the Justice Department post since 1970 and is a former Cleveland Municipal Court jurist, succeeds Judge Joseph J. Nahra, who resigned April 17.

Dam Days Has Bike Awareness

A number of activities are planned by the 4-H County Extension Agent during the Deercreek Dam Days Festival.

All boys and girls interested must register for the programs by 5 p.m. Thursday, May 19, at the Pavilion building.

A decorated bike contest Thursday evening will earn the winner a handsome trophy. All entries will be required to participate in the Thursday evening parade. The winning best decorated bike will be eligible for the Sunday afternoon winners parade, too.

Friday will be an inspection of bicycles for safety.

Saturday will include a minor repairs clinic and bike riding activities in the afternoon.

Sunday a bike rodeo is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. with trophies to first place winners by age divisions and a $25 savings bond to the high point winner overall.

CEA Spring Banquet Held

"Talent With A Capital T" was the theme of the spring banquet of the Circleville Education Association, the local professional organization of teachers. The banquet was held at the Buccaneer Restaurant in Lancaster with 78 members and guests present.

Steve Lust, president of CEA, gave the welcome followed by the invocation by the Rev. Roy Wolford. Serving as the master of ceremonies for the evening was Paul Dunkle, vice-president of the organization.

Martha Warthen provided musical selections of the 1920's with autoharp accompaniment. A skit, "Turn Your Intercom On" was given by Betty Shaeffer, Mary Elsea, Dick Billman, Steve Lust and Bill Brooke.

At this annual meeting, retiring members are honored by the association. Each retiree was presented by a fellow worker with many humorous comments included. Those being honored included Winifred Breegle who was introduced by Doris Gillespie; Lois Brobst by Peggy Dean; Velma Eberly by Steve Brudzinski; and Evalena Wolford by Paul Dunkle.

The Tired Teachers Repertory Troupe closed the evening with a melodrama "Victor Rings the Belle."

Many special awards were presented to members during the evening by the social committee headed by Daphne Weber. Making the presentations was Diane Schubert.

McGraw Wins Bass Tourney

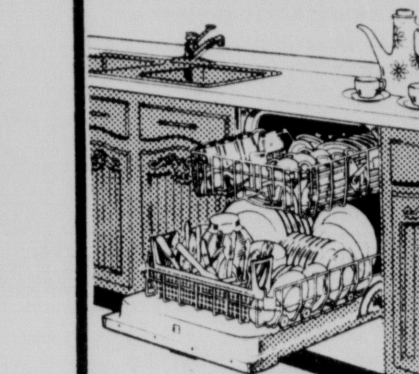

The Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen Assn. held its first bass tournament at Deer Creek Reservoir May 8.

The tournament was open to the public and there were 15 participants. The winner was Mike McGraw who caught the largest bass.

The club plans to hold five more tournaments at local lakes during the summer. All will be open to the public. Dates and locations will be announced later.

Nearly 700 million yards of denim were produced in 1976, up from the 215 million yards in 1968.

Home Insulation Enters Public Consciousness

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

Insulation manufacturers are gearing up for an expected business boom because of President Carter's proposal for insulating 90 per cent of all American homes by 1985.

But they also are worried that sales may slump temporarily if homeowners delay improvements pending Congressional action on tax credits for people who install insulation.

And some government officials warn that the new emphasis on insulation is likely to bring out unscrupulous dealers with shady offers, making it harder than ever for consumers to get their money's worth.

A spokesman at the National Bureau of Standards in the Department of Commerce warned would-be buyers to "be very wary," particularly if someone proposes an unusually low-cost insulation program.

Under Carter's proposal, homeowners would receive tax credits of up to $410 for spending on such energy-saving items as insulation, storm windows and weather stripping.

According to a 1974 study by the National Bureau of Standards, some 40 million owner-occupied, single-family homes are wasting energy because of inadequate insulation. Eighteen million of these homes have little or no insulation.

The amount of energy — and money — that can be saved by installing insulation varies widely, depending on the location of the house, the design, the amount of insulation already in place and the cost of fuel.

According to the Federal Energy Administration, installing proper insulation in a previously uninsulated attic can cut energy usage by about 20 per cent; storm windows and doors can reduce consumption by 15 per cent; caulking and weatherstripping doors and windows — an inexpensive

Space Women Pass 9-Day Bed Stay

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — Ten women who went to bed for the country's space program say they're ready for the launching pad, but they won't go back to the mattresses.

"I don't want to lay in bed in a windowless room," said Mary Gerbino, a housewife from San Jose. "I want to do the real thing."

Mrs. Gerbino, 44 the oldest participant, was one of 10 volunteers who spent 24 days undergoing rigid testing to determine how women in the 35-45 age bracket might withstand life on the Space Shuttle.

The heart of the testing was a nine-day stay in bed, preceded and followed by tests to measure how they were affected by the rest — designed to simulate weightlessness.

"We found nothing adverse to indicate women in this age group could not work in a space environment," said project director Harold Sandler. "This was the best and most cooperative group we have tested to date."

The testing was conducted at the NASA Ames Research Center. It ended Tuesday.

The women were unanimous in saying they were happy to have taken part and would do it again. Tests also included physical exercises, constant lab testing and rides in a centrifuge.

"The hardest thing to do in bed was trying to shave my legs," said Carol Pruitt, 37, a vocational nurse from process — may save up to 10 per cent.

There are three basic types of insulation — mineral wool, which accounts for 80 to 85 per cent of residential insulation, according to the National Mineral Wool Insulation Association; cellulose fiber usually sold in loose fill form; and plastic foam.

Sheldon Cady of the mineral wool group said "plants are working at capacity even without the legislation." But he said the industry can meet the demand, providing the nation's homes are insulated over an eight to 10-year span.

Both Cady and L.A. Barron of the National Cellulose Insulation Manufacturers Association expressed concern about people holding off on weatherproofing. Barron said that when a statewide program was proposed in California, "everyone stopped buying insulation."

Cady and Barron said that insulation is just as important in the summer — to keep the house cool — as it is in the winter. "The sooner you buy it, the better," said Barron.

No matter when you buy, you will have to be careful. Government and industry experts alike suggest that you make sure you know who you are dealing with and get several estimates for any work you plan to have done. Consider such qualities as durability, flame control and vermin resistance as well as the so-called "R" factor which indicates how well a material will stop heat loss. (The higher the "R" value the better.)

Insulation is not cheap; it can cost $1,000 and up to properly insulate a single-family home. There are ways of saving money, however, including some do-it-yourself alternatives such as plastic sheets instead of storm windows.

Figuring out how much insulation you need can be difficult without the advice of an expert. The Department

Liquor Permit Opposition Eyed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "As a result of legislation passed last year, local governments have the right to object to permit renewals and to request a hearing to be conducted by" the Department of Liquor Control, department director Clifford E. Reich announced.

"Communities who have problems with nuisance premises and high crime spots can now take action against the bad operators," Reich said.

Since all liquor permits expire Oct. 1, local governments have until Aug. 31 to submit their objections, he said.

The women stayed two or three to a room, sleeping and eating in hospital type beds. They had about six to seven hours to themselves each day during bed rest and were free to read, watch television or talk among themselves.

Bedrest is used to simulate weightlessness because tests get similar results on both those who have taken space flights and those who have spent long terms in bed.

of Commerce offers a step-by-step guide, "Making the Most of Your Energy Dollars in Home Heating and Cooling."

It includes climate maps, sample costs and charts for the individual homeowner to complete in order to determine his or her needs. The booklet is available from the Consumer Information Department, Pueblo, Colo., 81009, for 70 cents.

Mineral wool insulation generally comes in batts or blankets with an "R" value of about three per inch, according to the National Bureau of Standards. The batts are generally available in four, six and seven-inch thicknesses.

The batts, frequently used in unfinished attics or installed in walls during construction, are available with or without a vapor barrier — a paper or foil covering on one side of the batt. The barrier is designed to keep the water vapor in the house from condensing in or passing through the insulation. The vapor barrier should generally face the living quarters of the house; you need only one vapor barrier, even if you are using more than one batt.

Cellulose fiber in the form of loose-fill insulation is used to insulate walls of existing houses or attic spaces where access is difficult. It generally must be installed by a professional who will drill small holes and blow the insulation into the wall or attic space. Loose fill insulation is sold in bags; the manufacturer will specify the number of bags needed to achieve a given "R" value over a specific area.

The cellulose manufacturers group (NCIMA) has set flame-resistance standards for its members' insulation, but many producers are not members of the trade association. According to Barron, consumers should look for an indication that the product meets the "N101" standard set by NCIMA or the "HHI-515C" specification set by the federal government or has been tested by an independent laboratory.

Foam insulation also must be blown into wall or attic cavities. It usually is more expensive than mineral wool or cellulose insulation, but may do a better job in filling small openings. The National Bureau of Standards also cautions that some foams do not meet local fire standards and says that since the material is sprayed on wet, there may be problems with shrinkage and odor. Do not try to install the foam yourself.

Storm windows and doors also save energy, although they can be expensive. A spokesman for the Architectural Aluminum Manufacturers Association said an estimated 30 million storm windows and doors are sold every year, but he also said that half the nation's homes still do not have such protection.

The spokesman said the average house has 15 to 20 windows and two doors. Costs for storm windows range anywhere from $10 to $100, depending on how elaborate they are and whether they have to be custom built. An average storm window costs about $25, he said. Doors are about $75.

The window itself does not keep warmth inside the house; that job is done by the air space between the two panes. Installation, therefore, is a key factor since air leaks must be eliminated. Most storm windows sold today are so-called "triple-track" assemblies, which include sliding upper and lower windows and a screen. They are left in place permanently and should be sealed to the outer window frame with caulking compound or other material.

Mrs. Eleanor Ross and her sister, Mrs. Lena Buskirk of Lancaster returned home Monday evening from a two week vacation in San Antonio, Texas where they were the guests of their niece and family, Dr. and Mrs. Larry Dotin and children. They had a day of sight-seeing in Mexico and went on a tour of the "L.B.J." Ranch where they saw the house in which the late former president Johnson was born and the family cemetery located on the ranch.

They enjoyed the annual Fiesta that was similar to the 'Rose Parade' in that it had a certain theme and the floats, twenty or more, were done in live flowers. But where the New Year's parade was motorized, these were on barges and traveled on the San Antonio River. Other outings included a visit to the Alamo and Ft. Sam Houston and a visit to one of the older sections of town where the imposing, mansion type homes were being restored as family dwellings.

Mrs. Zeigler, head of the Zane Trace Home Ec department, took forty-one of her students to Columbus last Wednesday afternoon where they toured the French Market. In addition to the students there was Mrs. Pickell, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. McWilliams and Mrs. Harold Knisley and Becky Zeigler and their bus driver, Mrs. Newman.

Master Jason Coey celebrated his second birthday at a party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Coey, Saturday, April 30. His guests were Stephanie Bobo, Jack Coey, Jeff Carper and Brian Campbell. He also received gifts from his two sets of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fraley and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Coey, Joey Dett, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Elward.

Mr. and Mrs. Lex Carper were hosts at a Mother's Day get together with other members of their family at their cottage on Dry Run Rd. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ted King, his mother, Mrs. Mary King and Rodney King, all of Chillicothe, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carper and daughters, Lisa and Teresa, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knisley and daughters, Miss Suanne Knisley of Waverly and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Zeigler and Becky.

Saturday afternoon callers of Mrs. Charles Phillips were her sister and niece, Mrs. May Conaway and Mrs. Martha Yinger of Atlanta and Mrs. Tye Davis of near Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ward and son, James Robert of Dayton were guests over Mother's Day of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zwyer. They also welcomed a new nephew and celebrated their son's second birthday as well.

A son, Christopher Kenneth, was born, Thursday, May 5 at Berger Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Martin (Tim) Elward (Sandy Barnhart). Mrs. Peggy Mobash of near Kingston is the maternal grandmother and great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Breck of Chillicothe. The newcomer weighed seven pounds, six ounces.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Dresbach were their mothers, Mrs. Eleanor Ross and Mrs. Goldie Dresbach and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Dresbach and daughter, Michelle. Additional afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Don Dearth of Hallsville and Mrs. Don Beavers and sons of Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sterling and daughter, Rachelle attended a family picnic at Tar Hollow, Sunday. Others in the party were her mother, Mrs. Wesley Graves, Mrs. Shirley Kerns and Julie, Mrs. Janet Graves and Brent and Julie Reisinger.

Hospitalized for tests and examinations for the past two weeks, Mrs. Bernice Immell hopes to be discharged early this week.

Mrs. Julie Evans spent Mother's Day with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Reichelderfer and family at their home in Tarlton. She also celebrated her birthday. Another guest was Jeff Voss.

Among folks from this area attending the Mother-Daughter Banquet at Colerain U.M. Church last Saturday night were Mrs. L.E. Hill, Mrs. Leona Gibson, Mrs. Edna Sherwood, Mrs. Lawrence Betz, Mrs. Forrest Coey and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hinton. The delicious meal was prepared by the men.

In a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Delong on Mother's Day were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, Craig and Freddie, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duve, Steven and Jennifer and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Delong, Amy and Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy N. Hartsock, (Patty Painter) have named their first child, a son born April 28 in the Medical Center, Nathaniel John. He weighed 9 lbs., 4 oz. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Painter of Circleville and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartsock, Route 1, Chillicothe.

On May 3, Timothy's sister, Charlotte and her husband, D. Mark Anderson became parents for the second time. A son weighing 8 lbs. was born at the Medical Center and he has been named Jonathan Mark. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartsock and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson, Anderson Station Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Davis and daughter, Susie and Mrs. Marie Goodman of Circleville were Friday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Donley Almack at their home in Columbus and on Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Susie visited his sister, Mrs. James Humphrey and her husband, also in Columbus. The Davis's spent Sunday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. Ethel Ankrom in Circleville.

Showers Continue

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and thundershowers continued today in parts of Nebraska and northwestern Texas, while showers were tapering off in the Pacific and Gulf Coast states and in parts of New Mexico and Colorado.

A few locally heavy thunderstorms were reported in southeast Louisiana and southern Mississippi.

There were heavy thunderstorms Wednesday night in parts of the Florida Keys.

Elsewhere, generally clear skies were the rule. The only exception appeared to be southern Texas, where patchy ground fog was forming.

Temperatures were on the cool side over most of the nation, with readings generally in the 40s and 50s, and with 30s widespread through New England. Temperatures were in the low 70s along the Gulf Coast and in eastern Florida.

Early morning temperatures around the nation ranged from 28 in Houlton, Maine to 77 in Key West, Fla.

Vance Meets Juan Carlos

MADRID, Spain (AP) — Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance met with King Juan Carlos and other top Spanish leaders today to encourage their efforts to democratize Spain and bring the country into the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

The meeting at the king's Zarzuela Palace, once an 18th-century theater for light opera, is Vance's first with the Spanish monarch, who came to the throne 18 months ago after the death of dictator Francisco Franco.

Since then, the government has scheduled the first free national election in 40 years next month, legalized antigovernment political parties including the Communist party and released hundreds of political prisoners.

U.S. officials said Vance would also brief Prime Minister Adolfo Suarez and his aides on the economic summit conference in London last weekend and "give the Spanish a chance to say anything they want to say to us about the Mediterranean."

Degrees Planned As Special Honors

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two honorary degrees will be awarded during Capital University's commencement exercises May 22.

Sculptor Pietro Montana will receive the honorary doctor of humanities degree. An honorary doctor of laws degree will be awarded to Morris Allan Anderson, president of Luther College in Regina, Saskatchewan.

Bingo Law Loophole Battled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Laws which authorized charitable bingo in Ohio created a loophole that spawned Las Vegas-type gambling in the Akron area, a House member says.

Rep. Cliff Skeen, D-43 Akron, described to a committee what has been happening in his hometown, and showed a coupon worth $5 at a crap table, saying such coupons were widely circulated.

Skeen said a bill, now recommended for passage by the House Governmental Affairs Committee and awaiting a floor vote, will close the loophole. At least, the Summit County lawmaker said he has assurances from the attorney general that it will.

Under an existing section of law (2915.02), tax exempt organizations operating games for charity are excluded from Ohio's longtime ban against gambling for profit—bookmaking, promoting bookmaking, and operating schemes and games of chance, including gambling "devices."

Skeen said those running crap games, roulette, slot machines, and other such devices have been able to ply their trade under another section of law that authorizes licenses for games of chance at "festivals."

The way they do it, he explained, is to find a tax exempt organization to act as a "front" to obtain a festival license. He said "front" licenses in Akron have been obtained by about two dozen tax-exempt organizations from outside the Akron area, mostly churches from the Central Ohio area which get a share of the take.

Police are powerless to act, because of the loophole, Skeen said.

Under the bill—which also makes some other changes in bingo laws—festival licenses would be restricted to games conducted by the licensee on his premises, or in a building leased from a governmental unit.

Festival licenses, left intact by the bill, are good for no more than four consecutive days, and may be obtained no more than two times a year.

As though the loophole were not enough to perplex lawmakers, they have other problems brought on by the constitutional amendment that authorized charitable bingo a few years back. "Charitable" organizations continue to grow in number, it seems, especially in big cities.

Every session, the legislature receives requests from more and more self-described charitable organizations wanting to be included, some of which come close to defying the imagination.

In the pending bill, the House committee turned down requests on behalf of arts councils, community action groups, and those supplying facilities for youth athletic activities (sponsors of youth athletic teams already may sponsor bingo).

However, the bill awaiting House floor action does expand the list to include ethnic veterans' groups such as the Italian American War Veterans, if they are part of a national organization founded at least 20 years ago.

Mrs. Eleanor Ross and her sister, Mrs. Lena Buskirk of Lancaster returned home Monday evening from a two week vacation in San Antonio, Texas where they were the guests of their niece and family, Dr. and Mrs. Larry Dotin and children. They had a day of sight-seeing in Mexico and went on a tour of the "L.B.J." Ranch where they saw the house in which the late former president Johnson was born and the family cemetery located on the ranch.

They enjoyed the annual Fiesta that was similar to the 'Rose Parade' in that it had a certain theme and the floats, twenty or more, were done in live flowers. But where the New Year's parade was motorized, these were on barges and traveled on the San Antonio River. Other outings included a visit to the Alamo and Ft. Sam Houston and a visit to one of the older sections of town where the imposing, mansion type homes were being restored as family dwellings.

Mrs. Zeigler, head of the Zane Trace Home Ec department, took forty-one of her students to Columbus last Wednesday afternoon where they toured the French Market. In addition to the students there was Mrs. Pickell, Mrs. Hart, Mrs. McWilliams and Mrs. Harold Knisley and Becky Zeigler and their bus driver, Mrs. Newman.

Master Jason Coey celebrated his second birthday at a party given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Coey, Saturday, April 30. His guests were Stephanie Bobo, Jack Coey, Jeff Carper and Brian Campbell. He also received gifts from his two sets of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fraley and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Coey, Joey Dett, Mr. and Mrs. Tim Elward.

Mr. and Mrs. Lex Carper were hosts at a Mother's Day get together with other members of their family at their cottage on Dry Run Rd. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Ted King, his mother, Mrs. Mary King and Rodney King, all of Chillicothe, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Carper and daughters, Lisa and Teresa, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knisley and daughters, Miss Suanne Knisley of Waverly and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Zeigler and Becky.

Saturday afternoon callers of Mrs. Charles Phillips were her sister and niece, Mrs. May Conaway and Mrs. Martha Yinger of Atlanta and Mrs. Tye Davis of near Williamsport.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ward and son, James Robert of Dayton were guests over Mother's Day of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Zwyer. They also welcomed a new nephew and celebrated their son's second birthday as well.

A son, Christopher Kenneth, was born, Thursday, May 5 at Berger Hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Martin (Tim) Elward (Sandy Barnhart). Mrs. Peggy Mobash of near Kingston is the maternal grandmother and great grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Breck of Chillicothe. The newborn weighed seven pounds, six ounces.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Dresbach were their mothers, Mrs. Eleanor Ross and Mrs. Goldie Dresbach and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Dresbach and daughter, Michelle. Additional afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Don Dearth of Hallsville and Mrs. Don Beavers and sons of Chillicothe.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sterling and daughter, Rachelle attended a family picnic at Tar Hollow, Sunday. Others in the party were her mother, Mrs. Wesley Graves, Mrs. Shirley Kerns and Julie, Mrs. Janet Graves and Brent and Julie Reisinger.

Hospitalized for tests and examinations for the past two weeks, Mrs. Bernice Immell hopes to be discharged early this week.

Mrs. Julie Evans spent Mother's Day with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ned Reichelderfer and family at their home in Tarlton. She also celebrated her birthday. Another guest was Jeff Voss.

Among folks from this area attending the Mother-Daughter Banquet at Colerain U.M. Church last Saturday night were Mrs. L.E. Hill, Mrs. Leona Gibson, Mrs. Edna Sherwood, Mrs. Lawrence Betz, Mrs. Forrest Coey and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hinton. The delicious meal was prepared by the men.

In a family gathering at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Delong on Mother's Day were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, Craig and Freddie, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duve, Steven and Jennifer and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Delong, Amy and Douglas.

Mr. and Mrs. Timothy N. Hartsock, (Patty Painter) have named their first child, a son born April 28 in the Medical Center, Nathaniel John. He weighed 9 lbs., 4 oz. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Painter of Circleville and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartsock, Route 1, Chillicothe.

On May 3, Timothy's sister, Charlotte and her husband, D. Mark Anderson became parents for the second time. A son weighing 8 lbs. was born at the Medical Center and he has been named Jonathan Mark. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hartsock and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Anderson, Anderson Station Road.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Davis and daughter, Susie and Mrs. Marie Goodman of Circleville were Friday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Donley Almack at their home in Columbus and on Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Davis and Susie visited his sister, Mrs. James Humphrey and her husband, also in Columbus. The Davis's spent Sunday afternoon with her mother, Mrs. Ethel Ankrom in Circleville.

Carter Carries Symbolic Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — For his European trip, President Carter broke himself of the habit of carrying luggage on and off airplanes.

Carter was not empty handed, however. On arriving in London and Geneva, he carried a briefcase that nearly matched the color of the dark suit he had made for him for the occasion.

The briefcase served the same purpose as luggage — to suggest the President doesn't have to rely on servants to carry his belongings.

Another bit of symbolism, ordering senior advisers to move to a cheaper hotel in London, actually benefitted the British treasury. The host government for the seven-nation economic summit paid the hotel bills of Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal and six other American officials for three of the five nights spent in London.

The move from posh Claridge's to the comfortable but less costly Britannia helped the U.S. Treasury, too, Carter aides say, because at least 15 to 20 Americans were involved in the move, not counting security and transportation personnel.

Press Secretary Jody Powell, pumping up the image of his boss as an economizer, told reporters Carter directed the move because he is "tight as a tick."

A number of lesser lights in Carter's party stayed at the Churchill Hotel, which is rated in the luxury category. Many discovered on their first night at the Churchill they were not the travel-wise sophisticates they thought they were.

A large number of the Yankee travellers discovered they could not turn out their room lights at bedtime.

NEBRASKA GRANGE

The May meeting of the Nebraska Grange was conducted by Worthy Master Don Forquer. The fourth degree was conferred by the officers for Mrs. Alan Dill.

A letter of thanks for assistance with the NFO Banquet was read from County Deputies Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lands, Sr. Also a note of appreciation was read from the National Grange Youth Leadership Fund.

Plans were completed for serving the Madison-Walnut Alumni Banquet under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Peters.

Sunday Nebraska Grange will host Scioto Valley Grange in observance of Rural Life Sunday. A carry-in dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. with the program following. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

Plans were discussed for entertaining Geauga County Grangers who will be visiting Pickaway County July 16-17.

Lecturer Mrs. Chester Noecker presented an article on the history of Mothers Day.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hines and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Recobs. The next regular meeting will be June 7 when the Pickaway County Grange Youth will present the program.

Members attending are asked to bring a salad or dessert. Serving on the June committee will be Gladys and Thelma Hines, Mrs. Olive Eitel and Mrs. Iva Bell.

Guild Plans Puppetry Day

The Columbus Puppetry Guild will be holding its fourth annual Day of Puppetry Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Ascension Lutheran Church, 1479 Morse Road, Columbus.

The popular event will feature workshops and performances by Guild members, including Karen Lee Amey of New Holland and The Little Disciples.

It is designed to promote the art of puppetry, and to assist adults who work with children in the use of puppets for both entertainment and education.

There will be hand puppets, shadow puppets, and marionettes in the workshops.

The new guild show, "The Adventures of Drowzo The Clown," will have its premier during the Day of Puppetry at 3 p.m.

Persons interested in attending may register at the door for the full day or any portion.

For further details, contact Mrs. Amey at 495-5869.

The Pickaway County Alcoholism program is presenting the movie entitled "Chalk Talk" narrated by Father Martin 2 p.m. Sunday in the Roundtown Players Auditorium, Memorial Hall. This is the most talked about film on alcoholism in the country.

Judge Ammer Grants Shock Probation

Shock probation was granted two men by Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer Wednesday.

Shock probation of three years was granted James P. Williams, 19, 586 E. Franklin St., and Tyler L. Burns, 19, Columbus.

Williams had served 122 days of a concurrent 6 month to five year term in the Mansfield Reformatory following a Jan. 3 sentence.

He was found guilty Oct. 26 of grand theft and forgery.

Judge Ammer ordered Williams to seek necessary counseling, to not possess any checks except payroll checks, to not have a checking account, and to not associate with certain individuals.

Burns had served 61 days of two 6-month to five year terms in the Mansfield Reformatory after he pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and theft of drugs March 9.

Judge Ammer ordered him to seek necessary counseling, to not possess or use drugs, and to not associate with certain individuals.

Probation for three years was granted Elizabeth Ann Hollis, 28, 215 W. Mound St., who pleaded guilty March 23 to grand theft.

In ordering probation, Judge Ammer suspended a six month to five year sentence in the Marysville Reformatory and ordered Ms. Hollis to make restitution within six months.

She was charged with obtaining ADC and food stamps in the amount of $514 by deception.

Probation was extended for Dennis R. Collins, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, and Harold M. Hoops, 237 1/2 Logan St., after they admitted violating terms of probation.

Collins was given probation March 2 after he was charged with breaking into a store near New Holland and taking merchandise.

His probation was extended one year after he admitted to criminal charges stemming from an automobile accident, failing to have liability insurance and driving a vehicle without the permission of his probation officer.

Probation was continued for Hoop, who was charged May 18, 1975, with stealing items from an auto parts store near Williamsport. He was sentenced to two 6 month to 5 year terms in the Mansfield Reformatory on Aug. 27, 1975, and placed on shock probation for three years Nov. 26, 1975.

Hoop admitted violating terms of probation by failing to pay court costs or make restitution and by leaving the county without permission.

He was ordered to pay restitution and court costs and to serve a 30-day term in the Pickaway County Jail.

Pre-sentence report was ordered for Robert Clifton, 7028 Route 188, after he pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and grand theft.

He was indicted by the grand jury April 22 after allegedly trespassing on a farm and stealing wire Sept. 22, 1974.

Trial date will be set for Arthur B. Tatman Jr., Columbus, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of grand theft.

He is charged with obtaining food from a restaurant without paying. Tatman was indicted by the grand jury April 22.

MONROE STUDENTS — The Monroe Twp. elementary students included The Herald on its stop of tours Tuesday. The children toured the newspaper plant and had the opportunity to see the presses in operation.

Carter Carries Symbolic Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — For his European trip, President Carter broke himself of the habit of carrying luggage on and off airplanes.

Carter was not empty handed, however. On arriving in London and Geneva, he carried a briefcase that nearly matched the color of the dark suit he had made for him for the occasion.

The briefcase served the same purpose as luggage — to suggest the President doesn't have to rely on servants to carry his belongings.

Another bit of symbolism, ordering senior advisers to move to a cheaper hotel in London, actually benefitted the British treasury. The host government for the seven-nation economic summit paid the hotel bills of Secretary of State Cyrus Vance, Treasury Secretary W. Michael Blumenthal and six other American officials for three of the five nights spent in London.

The move from posh Claridge's to the comfortable but less costly Britannia helped the U.S. Treasury, too, Carter aides say, because at least 15 to 20 Americans were involved in the move, not counting security and transportation personnel.

Press Secretary Jody Powell, pumping up the image of his boss as an economizer, told reporters Carter directed the move because he is "tight as a tick."

A number of lesser lights in Carter's party stayed at the Churchill Hotel, which is rated in the luxury category. Many discovered on their first night at the Churchill they were not the travel-wise sophisticates they thought they were.

A large number of the Yankee travellers discovered they could not turn out their room lights at bedtime.

Grange News

NEBRASKA GRANGE

The May meeting of the Nebraska Grange was conducted by Worthy Master Don Forquer. The fourth degree was conferred by the officers for Mrs. Alan Dill.

A letter of thanks for assistance with the NFO Banquet was read from County Deputies Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lands, Sr. Also a note of appreciation was read from the National Grange Youth Leadership Fund.

Plans were completed for serving the Madison-Walnut Alumni Banquet under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Peters.

Sunday Nebraska Grange will host Scioto Valley Grange in observance of Rural Life Sunday. A carry-in dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. with the program following. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome.

Plans were discussed for entertaining Geauga County Grangers who will be visiting Pickaway County July 16-17.

Lecturer Mrs. Chester Noecker presented an article on the history of Mothers Day.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hines and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Recobs. The next regular meeting will be June 7 when the Pickaway County Grange Youth will present the program.

Members attending are asked to bring a salad or dessert. Serving on the June committee will be Gladys and Thelma Hines, Mrs. Olive Eitel and Mrs. Iva Bell.

Walter C. Collins, 45, Greenup, Ky., permitting a minor to operate a motor vehicle.

Reducing the speed of a DC 8 by 14 miles per hour adds only four extra minutes to a flight between Chicago and Los Angeles, but saves 164 gallons of fuel.

Guild Plans Puppetry Day

The Columbus Puppetry Guild will be holding its fourth annual Day of Puppetry Saturday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Ascension Lutheran Church, 1479 Morse Road, Columbus.

The popular event will feature workshops and performances by Guild members, including Karen Lee Amey of New Holland and The Little Disciples.

It is designed to promote the art of puppetry, and to assist adults who work with children in the use of puppets for both entertainment and education.

There will be hand puppets, shadow puppets, and marionettes in the workshops.

The new guild show, "The Adventures of Drowzo The Clown," will have its premier during the Day of Puppetry at 3 p.m.

Persons interested in attending may register at the door for the full day or any portion.

For further details, contact Mrs. Amey at 495-5869.

PICCA Notes

RENT-A-KID

Rent-A-Kid can provide reasonably priced labor to do those projects around the house and will at the same time provide badly needed summer jobs for boys and girls in junior high and high school who want to work. Some of the jobs they can do are lawn mowing, gardening, window washing, housecleaning, ironing, child care, painting, shopping, clerical.

Call 474-1303 and the Pickaway County Community Action staff will schedule a Rent-A-Kid to do the work. There are plenty of kids signed up and ready to start.

ALCOHOLISM PROGRAM

The Pickaway County Alcoholism program is presenting the movie entitled "Chalk Talk" narrated by Father Martin 2 p.m. Sunday in the Roundtown Players Auditorium, Memorial Hall. This is the most talked about film on alcoholism in the country.

Judge Ammer Grants Shock Probation

Shock probation was granted two men by Pickaway County Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer Wednesday.

Shock probation of three years was granted James P. Williams, 19, 586 E. Franklin St., and Tyler L. Burns, 19, Columbus.

Williams had served 122 days of a concurrent 6 month to five year term in the Mansfield Reformatory following a Jan. 3 sentence.

He was found guilty Oct. 26 of grand theft and forgery.

Judge Ammer ordered Williams to seek necessary counseling, to not possess any checks except payroll checks, to not have a checking account, and to not associate with certain individuals.

Burns had served 61 days of two 6-month to five year terms in the Mansfield Reformatory after he pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and theft of drugs March 9.

Judge Ammer ordered him to seek necessary counseling, to not possess or use drugs, and to not associate with certain individuals.

Probation for three years was granted Elizabeth Ann Hollis, 28, 215 W. Mound St., who pleaded guilty March 23 to grand theft.

In ordering probation, Judge Ammer suspended a six month to five year sentence in the Marysville Reformatory and ordered Ms. Hollis to make restitution within six months.

She was charged with obtaining ADC and food stamps in the amount of $514 by deception.

Probation was extended for Dennis R. Collins, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, and Harold M. Hoops, 237½ Logan St.,

after they admitted violating terms of probation.

Collins was given probation March 2 after he was charged with breaking into a store near New Holland and taking merchandise.

His probation was extended one year after he admitted to criminal charges stemming from an automobile accident, failing to have liability insurance and driving a vehicle without the permission of his probation officer.

Probation was continued for Hoop, who was charged May 18, 1975, with stealing items from an auto parts store near Williamsport. He was sentenced to two 6 month to 5 year terms in the Mansfield Reformatory on Aug. 27, 1975, and placed on shock probation for three years Nov. 26, 1975.

Hoop admitted violating terms of probation by failing to pay court costs or make restitution and by leaving the county without permission.

He was ordered to pay restitution and court costs and to serve a 30-day term in the Pickaway County Jail.

Pre-sentence report was ordered for Robert Clifton, 7028 Route 188, after he pleaded guilty to charges of breaking and entering and grand theft.

He was indicted by the grand jury April 22 after allegedly trespassing on a farm and stealing wire Sept. 22, 1974.

Trial date will be set for Arthur B. Tatman Jr., Columbus, who pleaded not guilty to a charge of grand theft.

He is charged with obtaining food from a restaurant without paying. Tatman was indicted by the grand jury April 22.

Miami Trace Tops TV In Dual Track Meet

880 MEDLEY — Teresa Van Pelt passes the baton to Perri Martin for the last leg of the 880 medley relay at Miami Trace. The Vikings raced to a win in 2:00.9, their fastest time of the year. Other team members are Gayle Warner and Carla Nardi.

Teays Valley scored five first place finishes but dropped a 72-37 decision to Miami Trace in a Tuesday track meet. Carla Nardi won the long jump in 15-3, Perri Martin captured first place in the high jump in 4-8, Melissa Archer won the discus with a heave of 89-8, the 880 medley relay team took first in 2:00.9, and the 440 relay team took first in 58 seconds.

Members of the 880 team are Gayle Warner, Carla Nardi, Teresa Van Pelt, and Perri Martin. Members of the 440 team are Carla Nardi, Phyllis Gay, Teresa Van Pelt, and Deb. Baxter. Nardi placed second in the 100 yard run in 12.3, Perri Martin was second in the mile, Gayle Warner was second in the 220 in 28.8, and Melissa Archer was second in the shot with a put of 33-9. Phyllis Gay was third in the 80-yard hurdles, and Kathy Foreman was third in the 440.

The Vikings will travel to West Jefferson tonight for a Metro League makeup, will participate in the Metro League meet Saturday at Dublin, and will travel to Circleville Monday for a triangular meet with the Tigers and Bloom-Carroll.

Zane Trace Rips Westfall

Zane Trace, preparing for its sectional final game Friday against Adena, pounded Westfall 17-1 Wednesday behind the three-hit pitching of Kenny Janes.

Janes fanned 10 Mustangs and walked six in pitching the complete game.

Westfall managed its lone run in the third inning, while Trace exploded for three in the third, four in the fourth, one in the fifth, and nine in the sixth inning.

Rowland started for Westfall and took the loss. Mustang pitchers allowed 14 hits.

Terry French had a perfect night at the plate for Trace with a triple, double, and two singles. He scored four runs and knocked in two more.

Brian Kerns knocked in two runs with a pair of doubles, and singles were collected by Fred Jones, Janes, Don Mallow, Eric Haynes, Mark Whaley, Rick Ledingham, Tim Street, and Casey Hinton.

Clem scored the lone Westfall run and managed a single. Other Mustang hits were by Stellings and Adams.

Trace upped its season mark to 15-7 with the win and jumped to 11-2 in the Scioto Valley Conference.

CHS Tennis Team Dropped By Hillsboro

The Circleville tennis team went down to a 4-1 defeat at Hillsboro Wednesday.

Mark Tammany and Steve Edmond dumped Greg Edwards and Doug Meade of Hillsboro 3-6, 7-6, and 6-4 for the only CHS win.

Jim Edgington was defeated by Gib Thompson 6-3, 6-2; Mark Beck lost to Mark Wilkinson 6-0, 7-6; Marc Rogols lost to Mark Porter 6-2, 6-2; and the doubles team of Dave Spain and Kevin Rogols lost to Ken Mathews and Bob McIlvaon 6-1, 6-0.

Circleville, 2-11 on the year, will host Lancaster Friday.

Turner, Atlanta Lose Again

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Ted Turner is in the dugout and Dave Bristol is in limbo. Turner, the flamboyant 38-year-old yachtsman and broadcasting executive who owns the Atlanta Braves, decided he needed a close-up look at what was wrong with his team, which had lost 16 games in a row. So Wednesday he told Bristol, his manager, to take a 10-day vacation, and donned the manager's cap himself.

There was no noticeable effect — the Braves lost No. 17, 2-1 to Pittsburgh.

"It seemed like I had done all I could, sitting up in the stands," explained Turner, who doesn't have a baseball background and is leaving all strategy matters to coaches Vern Benson and Chris Cannizzaro. "I wanted to see what it's like down in the trenches."

From those trenches he got an eyeful of Dave Parker, the slugging Pirates outfielder who is tearing up the National League. Parker had two hits, including his sixth home run of the season in the third inning which snapped a 1-1 tie.

Parker now has hit safely in 22 consecutive games and is batting .437 — both major league highs. And the Pirates have won 11 in a row, the longest streak in the majors.

Bristol, meanwhile, was "taken aback" by Turner's move.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Montreal Expos 5-1, the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-1, the Houston Astros whipped the Chicago Cubs 8-2 and the San Diego Padres swept a twinned doubleheader from the New York Mets 6-3 and 4-3.

The Braves almost sent their game into extra innings, but a long hit by Darrel Chaney in the ninth inning, which would have scored the trying run from first base, bounced over the wall for a ground-rule double, forcing pinch-runner Pat Rockett to stop at third. Reliever Rich Gossage then retired Rowland Office, ending the game.

Reds 5, Cards 1

Dave Concepcion had two singles, drove in one run, scored one and stole three bases, leading Cincinnati past St. Louis. Jack Billingham got the victory, with relief from ex-Cardinal Mike Caldwell.

Cubs 8, Astros 2

J.R. Richard pitched a five-hitter for his first victory since April 12 for the Astros. He also drove in a run as Houston scored five times in the third inning in snapping the Cubs' six-game winning streak.

Dodgers 5, Expos 1

The Dodgers scored all their runs in the seventh inning. Bill Russell stroked a two-run single, Steve Garvey and Manny Mota drew bases-loaded walks and Dusty Baker drove in the final run with an infield single.

Padres 6-4, Mets 3-3

Dave Winfield drove in four runs in San Diego's two victories over the troubled Mets. Winfield had a two-run homer in the opener as the Padres knocked out Mets ace Tom Seaver after three innings, his shortest stint of the season. Bill Almon's two-run single helped Randy Jones to victory in the second game.

Giants 4, Phillies 2

Bill Madlock's two-run homer in the fourth inning snapped a 1-1 tie for the Giants. Lynn McGlothen, 2-3, got the victory with a six-hitter.

CusD' Amato, who managed Floyd Patterson to the heavy-weight championship, is now training two young heavies, Cyclone Hart and Bob Stewart.

Tigers Gain 10-2 Win Over Aces

Brad Allison hurled five-hit ball and Mearle Logan provided some heavy hitting as Circleville downed visiting Amanda-Clearcreek, 10-2 Wednesday. Allison only walked three batters and fanned nine as he kept the Aces in check.

Logan slammed a triple, double and single to push three RBIs across the plate.

The Tigers tallied three runs in the bottom of the first, added three more in the fourth and added a pair in the fifth inning and again in the sixth.

Amanda-Clearcreek scored both runs in the top of the fifth inning.

Crites and Bitler shared the mound duties for the Aces. They gave up a total of 10 hits, six walks and fanned five.

Bo Barthelmas and Alan Ranck each belted a double, Brett Allen rapped a double and single while Gary Combs, Brad Allison, Joe Mogan, and Scherer each had a single.

Thompson cracked a double for the Aces while Hedrick, Cassill, Hartley and Davis each ripped a single for Amanda-Clearcreek.

Circleville is now 5-7 overall, 3-5 in South Central Ohio League play, and will host Pickerington Friday.

Amanda-Clearcreek is now 12-5 for the season and will play Mohawk today.

Zane Trace Girls Win

The Zane Trace Girls track team defeated Greenfield McClain 56-54 Wednesday in a dual meet at Greenfield.

Zane Trace winners were: 880 yard medley relay team of Pam Goldsberry, Lori Phillips, Theresa Anderson and Cathy Hamm, 2:02.5; Becky Colopy, mile, 5:37; 880-yard relay team of Lori Phillips, Theresa Anderson, Mandy Artrup, Cordy Fish, 1:56.9; Pam Goldsberry, 440-yard run, 65 seconds; 880-yard run, Becky Colopy, 2:40; Lori Phillips, 220-yard dash, 28.8; mile relay team of Pam Goldsberry, Cathy Hamm, Mandy Artrup and Diana Steele, 4:32.5.

The Zane Trace Girls Invitational meet will be held today. Schools will include all Ross County Schools, Portsmouth Notre Dame, Portsmouth West and Minford.

The girls sectional will be at Adena May 18.

Circleville Girls Rout Teays Valley

Circleville's girls rolled over Teays Valley, 47-6, in a softball game Thursday.

Jane Cole hurled the win while Stewart and Ledford shared the mound for the Vikings.

Michelle Nolan had a homer, triple, three doubles and a single and 12 RBIs for the Tigers, Sue Radcliff two homers, double and 11 RBIs, Marty Wyatt triple, two doubles and four singles, Cindy Johnson three doubles and three singles, Penny Perkins a homer, triple and two doubles, Marsha Cockerham two triples, a double and single, Melissa Allison two singles, Faith Redman a double and two singles, Wanda Boyd four singles, Sue Stevenson two doubles and a single and Jane Cole a triple and four singles.

Circleville is now 10-1, 3-1 in the South Central Ohio League, and will host Greenfield 4:30 p.m. today.

CJHS Track Teams Lose

The Circleville seventh and eighth grade track teams lost to Lancaster Sherman Wednesday. The seventh grade lost by a score of 63-42 and the eighth grade by a score of 71-37.

Seventh graders winning their events were: Tim Lane, discus, 89 feet 4 3/4 inches; Bob Zehner, 440 yard dash, 61.3, and high jump, 4 feet 6 inches; mile relay team of Bob Zehner, Tim Thoma, Mark Uland and Kelly Robinson in 4:41.1.

Eighth graders winning were: Jim Frericks, shot, 42 feet 5 inches, and discus, 109 feet 10 inches; 880 yard relay team of Brad Fisher, Mike Lundberg, Bob Carroll, Rich Davis in 1:48.4.

The CJHS ninth graders will run in the Gene Cole Relays at Lancaster Saturday. The Pickaway County junior high meet will be Wednesday at Circleville.

Parker now has hit safely in 22 consecutive games and is batting .437 — both major league highs. And the Pirates have won 11 in a row, the longest streak in the majors.

Bristol, meanwhile, was "taken aback" by Turner's move.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Los Angeles Dodgers beat the Montreal Expos 5-1, the San Francisco Giants trimmed the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2, the Cincinnati Reds defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 5-1, the Houston Astros whipped the Chicago Cubs 8-2 and the San Diego Padres swept a twinght doubleheader from the New York Mets 6-3 and 4-3.

The Braves almost sent their game into extra innings, but a long hit by Darrel Chaney in the ninth inning, which would have scored the trying run from first base, bounced over the wall for a ground-rule double, forcing pinch-runner Pat Rockett to stop at third. Reliever Rich Gossage then retired Rowland Office, ending the game.

Reds 5, Cards 1

Dave Concepcion had two singles, drove in one run, scored one and stole three bases, leading Cincinnati past St. Louis. Jack Billingham got the victory, with relief from ex-Cardinal Mike Caldwell.

Cubs 8, Astros 2

J.R. Richard pitched a five-hitter for his first victory since April 12 for the Astros. He also drove in a run as Houston scored five times in the third inning in snapping the Cubs' six-game winning streak.

Dodgers 5, Expos 1

The Dodgers scored all their runs in the seventh inning. Bill Russell stroked a two-run single, Steve Garvey and Manny Mota drew bases-loaded walks and Dusty Baker drove in the final run with an infield single.

Padres 6-4, Mets 3-3

Dave Winfield drove in four runs in San Diego's two victories over the troubled Mets. Winfield had a two-run homer in the opener as the Padres knocked out Mets ace Tom Seaver after three innings, his shortest stint of the season. Bill Almon's two-run single helped Randy Jones to victory in the second game.

Giants 4, Phillies 2

Bill Madlock's two-run homer in the fourth inning snapped a 1-1 tie for the Giants. Lynn McGlothen, 2-3, got the victory with a six-hitter.

CusD' Amato, who managed Floyd Patterson to the heavy-weight championship, is now training two young heavies, Cyclone Hart and Bob Stewart.

Tigers Gain 10-2 Win Over Aces

Brad Allison hurled five-hit ball and Mearle Logan provided some heavy hitting as Circleville downed visiting Amanda-Clearcreek, 10-2 Wednesday.

Allison only walked three batters and fanned nine as he kept the Aces in check.

Logan slammed a triple, double and single to push three RBIs across the plate.

The Tigers tallied three runs in the bottom of the first, added three more in the fourth and added a pair in the fifth inning and again in the sixth.

Amanda-Clearcreek scored both runs in the top of the fifth inning.

Crites and Bitler shared the mound duties for the Aces. They gave up a total of 10 hits, six walks and fanned five.

Bo Barthelmas and Alan Ranck each belted a double, Brett Allen rapped a double and single while Gary Combs, Brad Allison, Joe Mogan, and Scherer each had a single.

Thompson cracked a double for the Aces while Hedrick, Cassill, Hartley and Davis each ripped a single for Amanda-Clearcreek.

Circleville is now 5-7 overall, 3-5 in South Central Ohio League play, and will host Pickerington Friday.

Amanda-Clearcreek is now 12-5 for the season and will play Mohawk today.

Zane Trace Girls Win

The Zane Trace Girls track team defeated Greenfield McClain 56-54 Wednesday in a dual meet at Greenfield.

Zane Trace winners were: 880 yard medley relay team of Pam Goldsberry, Lori Phillips, Theresa Anderson and Cathy Hamm, 2:02.5; Becky Colopy, mile, 5:37; 880-yard relay team of Lori Phillips, Theresa Anderson, Mandy Artrup, Cordy Fish, 1:56.9; Pam Goldsberry, 440-yard run, 65 seconds; 880-yard run, Becky Colopy, 2:40; Lori Phillips, 220-yard dash, 28.8; mile relay team of Pam Goldsberry, Cathy Hamm, Mandy Artrup and Diana Steele, 4:32.5.

The Zane Trace Girls Invitational meet will be held today. Schools will include all Ross County Schools, Portsmouth Notre Dame, Portsmouth West and Minford.

The girls sectional will be at Adena May 18.

Circleville Girls Rout Teays Valley

Circleville's girls rolled over Teays Valley, 47-6, in a softball game Thursday.

Jane Cole hurled the win while Stewart and Ledford shared the mound for the Vikings.

Michelle Nolan had a homer, triple, three doubles and a single and 12 RBIs for the Tigers, Sue Radcliff two homers, double and 11 RBIs, Marty Wyatt triple, two doubles and four singles, Cindy Johnson three doubles and three singles, Penny Perkins a homer, triple and two doubles, Marsha Cockerham two triples, a double and single, Melissa Allison two singles, Faith Redman a double and two singles, Wanda Boyd four singles, Sue Stevenson two doubles and a single and Jane Cole a triple and four singles.

Circleville is now 10-1, 3-1 in the South Central Ohio League, and will host Greenfield 4:30 p.m. today.

CJHS Track Teams Lose

The Circleville seventh and eighth grade track teams lost to Lancaster Sherman Wednesday. The seventh grade lost by a score of 63-42 and the eighth grade by a score of 71-37.

Seventh graders winning their events were: Tim Lane, discus, 89 feet 4 1/2 inches; Bob Zehner, 440 yard dash, 61.3, and high jump, 4 feet 6 inches; mile relay team of Bob Zehner, Tim Thoma, Mark Uland and Kelly Robinson in 4:41.1.

Eighth graders winning were: Jim Frericks, shot, 42 feet 5 inches, and discus, 109 feet 10 inches; 880 yard relay team of Brad Fisher, Mike Lundberg, Bob Carroll, Rich Davis in 1:48.4.

The CJHS ninth graders will run in the Gene Cole Relays at Lancaster Saturday. The Pickaway County junior high meet will be Wednesday at Circleville.

A's Trip Red Sox, 3-1

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

Oakland's Mitchell Page is making American League pitchers rewrite the book.

And as far as Boston pitcher Ferguson Jenkins is concerned, you can include the A's Wayne Gross and Earl Williams.

"I went to slow stuff in the fifth inning," said Jenkins, "but by then it was too late."

Jenkins gave up only five hits, but three were home runs by Page, Gross and Williams as Oakland downed the Red Sox 3-1 Wednesday.

"I threw a hard slider to Page, fastballs to the other two guys," Jenkins said. "Next time, I'll throw them nothing but slop."

Gross has nine home runs this season, second best in the American League, while Page is tied for third with eight. Williams' was his seventh.

Doc Medich, 2-2, went the distance for the victory. Boston's only run was unearned as Carlton Fisk, who had three hits, doubled home Jim Rice, who had reached base on an error.

In other AL games Wednesday, Cleveland clipped Milwaukee 4-3, Detroit stopped Minnesota 8-3, the Chicago White Sox nipped Texas 4-3 in 10 innings, Seattle defeated the Yankees 5-2 and California blanked

Baltimore 6-0.

Indians 4, Brewers 3

Paul Dade's sacrifice fly scored Frank Duffy from third and lifted Cleveland to its third straight victory over Milwaukee. Wayne Garland, a free agent who signed a 10-year, $2.3 million contract with the Indians, scattered eight hits in eight innings, including a homer to Von Joshua, in winning his first game of the season after four losses.

Tigers 8, Twins 3

Detroit snapped Minnesota's four-game winning streak with a four-homer attack, handing Greg Zahn his first loss after five straight victories.

Rookies Phil Mankowski and Mark Wagner led off the fourth inning with consecutive homers, sending Zahn to the showers. Ben Oglivie and Milt May also homered in the Tigers' 12-hit attack.

White Sox 4, Rangers 3

Singles by Richie Zisk, Jim Spencer and Chet Lemon snapped a 3-3 deadlock and lifted Chicago to its 10-inning victory over Texas. Chris Knapp, 4-1, held the Rangers to six hits while the White Sox pounded three Texas pitchers for 10 hits.

Mariners 5, Yankees 2

Enrique Romo tossed 2-3 innings of shutout relief as Seattle snapped a seven-game losing streak and downed the New York Yankees. Both Yankee runs came on Reggie Jackson's fifth homer of the season in the first inning.

The Mariners won two bloop hits and an error by loser Ken Holtzman to score their runs.

Angels 6, Orioles 0

Bobby Bonds, Don Baylor and Ron Jackson slammed consecutive home runs and Frank Tanana scattered six hits, leading California over Baltimore.

Tanana, 5-1, hurled his second shutout of the season, striking out seven and walking none, as California posted its third straight victory.

What Next For Beaten Bobick?

NEW YORK (AP) — Like a tornado striking a Kansas farm house, it was over in 58 seconds.

A man in the red-cushioned $50 ringside seats reached down to pick up his hat. A lady in a long white gown turned to speak to a mustachioed man behind her. Another man reached in his pocket for change to buy a beer.

They blew the fight completely. NBC-TV set an all-time record for reruns. The midnight show came on an hour early.

Tall, hard-hitting Ken Norton gets another shot at Muhammad Ali — his fourth. They're already booked — contracts signed and in the safe — for a title fight in Rio de Janeiro in September.

It's appropriate. The end of the season's reruns on the big tube. Will fight fans stand still for a fourth Ali-Norton fight for millions of dollars? Tune in next September.

And young Duane Bobick, boxing's new "Goden Boy," the handsome ex-Olympian who came up from the cow country of Bowls, Minn., almost destroyed in a first-round knockout after 38 straight victories — what of him?

"He is young and strong. You haven't heard the last of Duane Bobick," Norton said graciously afterward.

The polite farm boy with the shock of curly copper hair is too good to lose so early. He seems a foreigner to his craft — modest, pleasant, soft-speaking, without bombast.

He took a terrible right hand shot to the throat early in the battle. Water welled in his eyes. He couldn't see. He became a helpless target of Norton's slashing, relentless fists — a vicious blow to the stomach, a right to the head, right, left, right, left.

Blood spewed from Bobick's handsome features and he crumbled. At the count of nine he rose on rubbery legs, his face a dazed mask of bruises and blood. Referee Patty Della stopped it. It was quick and merciful. Bobick had been brought along too quickly. He was a young bear thrown into the arena with a roaring lion.

Bobick's voice was so raspy, from the blow to the throat, that he could barely be understood. He had no alibis.

"I start slow, I didn't have a chance to get loose," he explained. "He came out barreling to get me."

Somebody asked him what he remembered about the fight.

"There wasn't much to remember," he replied, giving the smartest appraisal of the bitter night.

Another reporter suggested that maybe the fight proved what some had charged, that Bobick's victories were over setups. Could this bout have

Winnipeg Jets

Stop Nordiques

QUEBEC (AP) — Members of the Winnipeg Jets are a little upset that their 2-1 victory over the Quebec Nordiques in the first game of the World Hockey Association final playoff series Wednesday night wasn't on the home television screens of Canadian hockey fans.

The WHA failed in attempts to have the best-of-seven series televised, and Winnipeg Coach Bobby Kromm said it was unfair.

"I watched the Canadiens-Boston games," Kromm said of the National Hockey League's televised final series. "I'm sure our games would be just as good to watch."

"There must have been one live body in the bunch," he answered.

How would he describe his disappointment?

"Shucks," he said.

Norton, who already has been guaranteed $2.25 million to fight Ali in Brazil this fall, was a gracious victor.

He said he was surprised that Bobick hadn't applied more pressure — it was almost as if the kid was frozen.

"You haven't seen the last of Bobick," he warned.

In the 1976-77 season, the Minnesota North Stars of the National Hockey League became the first team to have three rookies who scored at least 20 goals in a season. They were Glen Sharpley, Roland Eriksson and Steve Jensen.

NEWCOMERSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Such magical names from baseball's past as Early Wynn, Lou Boudreau and Johnny Vander Meer stud the list of eight inductees elected Wednesday for the Ohio Baseball Hall of Fame.

They and Walter Alston, Warren Giles, Ted Kluszewski, William F. McKinley and Roger Peckinpaugh will be inducted July 16.

Vander Meer hurled consecutive no-hitters to defeat Boston and Brooklyn in 1938, a feat which tends to outshine the rest of his strong record with the Cincinnati Reds. In 11 seasons for the Reds and two more elsewhere, he won

Nolan Glad

To Be Back

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The return of Gary Nolan, in a five-inning stint in which the Cincinnati Reds broke a five-game losing streak, is expected to give the sagging pitching staff a boost.

"Two weeks ago, I was sicker than sick," said Nolan, who has been hampered since spring training by foot problems and mononucleosis.

"I'd have to have been happy after the first inning if I hadn't done anything else because I was able to throw strikes."

Nolan departed in the sixth inning with leg cramps.

"The emotional strain, pushing off the mound and getting wrapped up in everything—I think they all took their effect," said Nolan, who threw 49 pitches in his five innings of work.

"I had no way of knowing going into the game how I'd feel."

Nolan, asked if his return could provide a psychological boost to a pitching staff whose earned run average is over 4.00, said "I hope so."

"After being out with the run of problems I've had I knew I could throw strikes but I didn't know effective I would be," he said.

"I was just hopeful of keeping in the game."

Nolan has posted a 15-9 record for the last two seasons.

Tidewater Trips

Columbus Clippers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Tidewater's Ken Perry and Lee Iorg spoiled dedication night for the Columbus Clippers new $6 million stadium with back-to-back homers.

The blasts gave Tidewater a 4-2 victory before a dedication crowd that included Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and International, American and National league officials.

In other International League action Wednesday, Toledo shut out Charleston, 5-0, Rochester beat Pawtucket, 7-3 and Richmond defeated Syracuse, 7-5.

a total of 119 games and pitched in three All-Star games and in one World Series.

Early Wynn, another pitcher but with the Cleveland Indians, won 300 games during his 23-year career. He drew the 1959 Cy Young Memorial Award, pitched in the World Series that year and in 1954, and recorded five seasons in which he won more than 20 games. Today he's commentator for the Toronto Blue Jays.

Boudreau, a shortstop with 15 years' play in the majors, led the Cleveland Indians to the pennant and a World Series victory in 1948 as player-manager. He piloted the Indians for eight seasons, later holding that post with Boston, Kansas City and Chicago.

Alston, a Butler County native, retired as manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers following the 1976 season, his 23rd year at their helm.

Giles, a long-time baseball executive, served as president of the National League for 18 years after being general manager of the Cincinnati Reds for a number of seasons.

Kluszewski, Cincinnati's former slugging first baseman who now is a Reds coach, holds the fielding record for that position. He posted a lifetime major league batting average of .298 including 279 homers.

McKinley, a Kinsman, Ohio, native, served as an American League umpire for 20 seasons before retiring in 1965.

Peckinpaugh, a shortstop who won a variety of honors with the early New York Yankees and Washington Senators, played with Cleveland for two seasons early this century. Later he served as the club's manager for five years and as vice president-general manager for four more.

A's Trip Red Sox, 3-1

By BOB GREENE
AP Sports Writer

Oakland's Mitchell Page is making American League pitchers rewrite the book.

And as far as Boston pitcher Ferguson Jenkins is concerned, you can include the A's Wayne Gross and Earl Williams.

"I went to slow stuff in the fifth inning," said Jenkins, "but by then it was too late."

Jenkins gave up only five hits, but three were home runs by Page, Gross and Williams as Oakland downed the Red Sox 3-1 Wednesday.

"I threw a hard slider to Page, fastballs to the other two guys," Jenkins said. "Next time, I'll throw them nothing but slop."

Gross has nine home runs this season, second best in the American League, while Page is tied for third with eight. Williams' was his seventh.

Doc Medich, 2-2, went the distance for the victory. Boston's only run was unearned as Carlton Fisk, who had three hits, doubled home Jim Rice, who had reached base on an error.

In other AL games Wednesday, Cleveland clipped Milwaukee 4-3, Detroit stopped Minnesota 8-3, the Chicago White Sox nipped Texas 4-3 in 10 innings, Seattle defeated the Yankees 5-2 and California blanked

Baltimore 6-0.

Indians 4, Brewers 3

Paul Dade's sacrifice fly scored Frank Duffy from third and lifted Cleveland to its third straight victory over Milwaukee. Wayne Garland, a free agent who signed a 10-year, $2.3 million contract with the Indians, scattered eight hits in eight innings, including a homer to Von Joshua, in winning his first game of the season after four losses.

Tigers 8, Twins 3

Detroit snapped Minnesota's four-game winning streak with a four-homer attack, handing Greg Zahn his first loss after five straight victories.

Rookies Phil Mankowski and Mark Wagner led off the fourth inning with consecutive homers, sending Zahn to the showers. Ben Oglivie and Milt May also homered in the Tigers' 12-hit attack.

White Sox 4, Rangers 3

Singles by Richie Zisk, Jim Spencer and Chet Lemon snapped a 3-3 deadlock and lifted Chicago to its 10-inning victory over Texas. Chris Knapp, 4-1, held the Rangers to six hits while the White Sox pounded three Texas pitchers for 10 hits.

Mariners 5, Yankees 2

Enrique Romo tossed 2-3 innings of shutout relief as Seattle snapped a seven-game losing streak and downed the New York Yankees. Both Yankee runs came on Reggie Jackson's fifth homer of the season in the first inning.

The Mariners used two bloop hits and an error by loser Ken Holtzman to score their runs.

Angels 6, Orioles 0

Bobby Bonds, Don Baylor and Ron Jackson slammed consecutive home runs and Frank Tanana scattered six hits, leading California over Baltimore.

Tanana, 5-1, hurled his second shutout of the season, striking out seven and walking none, as California posted its third straight victory.

Old-Rifle Enthusiasts Join Hunt

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A hunter clad in buckskins steals quietly through a leafy glade, pausing occasionally to sound a turkey call. He knows the end of April is the best time to hunt wild gobblers in the rugged, densely wooded hills where the Licking River flows through

Eastern Kentucky. The hunter again manipulates the box-call, imitating the scraping cry of a hen turkey. He listens, raises his long flintlock rifle and stalks cautiously in the direction of an answering sound. An 18th century settler bent on stocking his cabin larder? No, he is a 20th century nimrod, one of many who seek out the wild seclusion of the 7,900-acre pioneer weapons hunting area in Daniel Boone National Forest. For 15 years, the area has been set aside for hunters who want to shoulder the weapons, and often don the wardrobe, of two centuries ago.

The U.S. Forest Service and the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources manage the pioneer weapons area. "They manage the game — the bag limits and seasons — and we manage the habitat," said Charles Crail, of the forest service office at Morehead.

John Wilson of the fish and wildlife resources office in Frankfort said officials do not keep an exact count, but he and Crail agreed that hundreds of modern hunters come to try their luck with pre-Civil War weaponry.

That can include the bow and arrow, cross bow and muzzle-loading long rifles and shotguns. "There are even doublebarreled muzzle-loading shotguns," said Wilson.

What is the attraction? "I don't know," said William Furnish of Frankfort, who has hunted the pioneer weapons area with a muzzle-loading rifle. "Nostalgia, maybe — or the realization that there's not much point in taking a modern high-powered multi-shot shotgun or rifle into the woods.

"First of all, you're not going to see that much game. And it's not really sporting," Furnish said. "I'm not really a serious hunter," he admitted. "I just go to be in the woods rather than to shoot something."

Most of the weapons used in the area are not originals from pioneer days, Wilson noted. "Most people who have an antique muzzle-loader, like a Kentucky rifle, wouldn't shoot them," he said. "They use replicas. There are several companies making them, and that's what most people use for actual shooting."

He said not only do several companies make muzzle-loading weapons, but many people buy parts and make their own.

"So a lot of these people are using weapons they built themselves. They're tinkers — gunsmiths — as much as hunters or outdoorsmen," Furnish said.

The area's main species are deer, turkey, squirrel and grouse, along with "limited numbers of rabbit and quail," Wilson said. Hunting seasons and regulations are the same as for the rest of Kentucky.

Foresees Pride Scioto Victor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Foresees Pride, with Janet Irvine in the sulky, moved from fourth place into the lead in the stretch and posted a 1½-length victory in the featured race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night.

The winner, circling the mile in 2:03 1-5, returned $11.60, $5.40 and $4.20. Dark Legend paid $6.20 and $3.60 for second and Sweet Milan, $3.60 for show.

The 6-3 daily double combination of Prince Beegee and Chico Dan D. was worth $39.20.

Attendance was 3,560; handle was $238,570.

LaRoche Traded For Bochte, Monge

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dave LaRoche has won a battle between strong-willed men and only time will tell if Cleveland Indians General Manager Phil Seghi was a winner, too.

LaRoche, Cleveland's leading relief pitcher the past two seasons—as well as through the first five weeks of the current campaign—was traded to the California Angels for first-baseman outfielder Bruce Bochte, left-handed pitcher Sid Monge and about $250,000.

LaRoche, who turns 29 on Saturday, is 2-2 with four saves this season. The lefty began with the Angels, went to Minnesota, then to the Chicago Cubs and to the Indians in 1975. His 21 saves in 1976 were second only to Sparky Lyle of the New York Yankees in the American League.

Following that fine season, LaRoche asked Seghi for a five-year contract. Seghi, who doesn't believe relief pitchers can stay effective for more than a few years because of the way they're used, would go no further than three years.

Both stood firm and LaRoche announced his intention of declaring himself a free agent at the end of the current season. Upon being dealt to the Angels, LaRoche and his agents immediately agreed to a five-year contract.

And almost immediately, Seghi began to get heat from the local media and fans for "giving LaRoche away."

"We're absolutely not throwing in the sponge," Seghi declared. "We are getting two good players capable of doing what we need. Both Bochte and Monge have proved themselves to be major league players. Bochte is an established hitter and Monge is a very good pitcher."

Bochte, 26 and in his fourth major league season, was hitting .290 for the Angels this year, with two homers and eight runs batted in. He has a lifetime batting average of .272.

Monge, also 26, was 6-7 with a 3.36 earned run average in 1976, his first complete season in the majors. He is 0-1 with one save and a 2.92 earned run average in four relief outings this year.

Reds Slip Past Cardinals, 5-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — It might have been reasonable to expect euphoria among the Cincinnati Reds following their second successive triumph.

The Reds downed the St. Louis Cardinals by 5-1 with 12 hits Wednesday night, but bliss was not a part of Manager Sparky Anderson's mind.

"We're not getting any mileage out of our hits," complained Anderson, who was as intent for the moment on finding fault as any efficiency expert. "We're getting a lot of hits, but we're not getting the runs."

Anderson's pique, the victory and key hits by Pete Rose and Johnny Bench notwithstanding, stemmed from two Cincinnati threats that fizzled during an unsuccessful bid to break open the game.

A bases-loaded opportunity was wasted in the fourth inning when Ken Griffey, following Bench's pivotal ground-rule double, bounced into a double play after two runs were scored.

An inning later, after Joe Morgan singled and raced to third on George Foster's hit, the Reds again came up bare-handed when Bench duplicated Griffey's misdeed.

Anderson, while overlooking the occasions when Cincinnati did deliver to meet with his satisfaction, lashed out angrily by noting that "if you're a major leaguer you've got a job to do and that's get the runner in."

"Every time you've got a runner on third base with less than two out — I don't care what anybody else says — you have got to score," he said.

"We are just going up there swinging wildly instead of getting a ball to hit," Anderson charged. "That's been our biggest problem more than anything. You look at a guy hitting .340. That doesn't mean anything unless he's doing something to score runs."

The multiplicity of Reds sins having been enumerated, those innocent were pitchers Jack Billingham, 4-2, and Mike Caldwell, who combined to minimize 11 St. Louis hits.

Billingham was pinned into a bases-loaded jam in the seventh, but Caldwell extricated his teammate by inducing pinch-hitter Mike Anderson to hit into a twin killing en route to his first save.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Wayne Garland is a proud young man, so he certainly wasn't ready to declare a national holiday after gaining his first victory of the season in the Cleveland Indians' 4-3 triumph over the Milwaukee Brewers Wednesday night.

With just a hint of a smile peeking out from under his bushy red mustache, the 26-year-old right-hander said, "The pressure has been tremendous, but now that I've got one win under my belt, it may ease up quite a bit."

Garland and fellow free agent acquisition Paul Dade played key roles in Cleveland's third straight victory and Milwaukee's seventh loss in its last eight games.

Garland, who signed a 10-year, $2.3 million contract with the Indians after playing out his option in Baltimore in 1976, gave up eight hits and three runs in eight innings. Jim Kern, who picked up his second save, preserved the victory for Garland, his first after four losses this season.

Milwaukee's Jerry Augustine, 3-4, took the loss despite pitching a five-hitter. Three of Cleveland's four runs were unearned.

The winner came home in the eighth as Frank Duffy singled with one out, went all the way to third as catcher Charlie Moore threw wildly past second base on a steal attempt, and came home on Dade's long sacrifice fly to center.

Old-Rifle Enthusiasts Join Hunt

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A hunter clad in buckskins steals quietly through a leafy glade, pausing occasionally to sound a turkey call. He knows the end of April is the best time to hunt wild gobblers in the rugged, densely wooded hills where the Licking River flows through

Eastern Kentucky. The hunter again manipulates the box-call, imitating the scraping cry of a hen turkey. He listens, raises his long flintlock rifle and stalks cautiously in the direction of an answering sound. An 18th century settler bent on stocking his cabin larder? No, he is a 20th century nimrod, one of many who seek out the wild seclusion of the 7,900-acre pioneer weapons hunting area in Daniel Boone National Forest. For 15 years, the area has been set aside for hunters who want to shoulder the weapons, and often don the wardrobe, of two centuries ago.

The U.S. Forest Service and the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources manage the pioneer weapons area. "They manage the game — the bag limits and seasons — and we manage the habitat," said Charles Crail, of the forest service office at Morehead.

John Wilson of the fish and wildlife resources office in Frankfort said officials do not keep an exact count, but he and Crail agreed that hundreds of modern hunters come to try their luck with pre-Civil War weaponry.

That can include the bow and arrow, cross bow and muzzle-loading long rifles and shotguns. "There are even doublebarreled muzzle-loading shotguns," said Wilson.

What is the attraction? "I don't know," said William Furnish of Frankfort, who has hunted the pioneer weapons area with a muzzle-loading rifle. "Nostalgia, maybe — or the realization that there's not much point in taking a modern high-powered multi-shot shotgun or rifle into the woods."

"First of all, you're not going to see that much game. And it's not really sporting," Furnish said. "I'm not really a serious hunter," he admitted. "I just go to be in the woods rather than to shoot something."

Most of the weapons used in the area are not originals from pioneer days, Wilson noted. "Most people who have an antique muzzle-loader, like a Kentucky rifle, wouldn't shoot them," he said. "They use replicas. There are several companies making them, and that's what most people use for actual shooting."

He said not only do several companies make muzzle-loading weapons, but many people buy parts and make their own.

"So a lot of these people are using weapons they built themselves. They're tinkers — gunsmiths — as much as hunters or outdoorsmen," Furnish said.

The area's main species are deer, turkey, squirrel and grouse, along with "limited numbers of rabbit and quail," Wilson said. Hunting seasons and regulations are the same as for the rest of Kentucky.

Foresees Pride Scioto Victor

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Foresees Pride, with Janet Irvine in the sulky, moved from fourth place into the lead in the stretch and posted a 1½-length victory in the featured race at Scioto Downs Wednesday night.

The winner, circling the mile in 2:03 1-5, returned $11.60, $5.40 and $4.20. Dark Legend paid $6.20 and $3.60 for second and Sweet Milan, $3.60 for show.

The 6-3 daily double combination of Prince Beegoe and Chico Dan D. was worth $39.20.

Attendance was 3,560; handle was $238,570.

LaRoche Traded For Bochte, Monge

CLEVELAND (AP) — Dave LaRoche has won a battle between strong-willed men and only time will tell if Cleveland Indians General Manager Phil Seghi was a winner, too.

LaRoche, Cleveland's leading relief pitcher the past two seasons—as well as through the first five weeks of the current campaign—was traded to the California Angels for first-baseman outfielder Bruce Bochte, left-handed pitcher Sid Monge and about $250,000.

LaRoche, who turns 29 on Saturday, is 2-2 with four saves this season. The lefty began with the Angels, went to Minnesota, then to the Chicago Cubs and to the Indians in 1975. His 21 saves in 1976 were second only to Sparky Lyle of the New York Yankees in the American League.

Following that fine season, LaRoche asked Seghi for a five-year contract. Seghi, who doesn't believe relief pitchers can stay effective for more than a few years because of the way they're used, would go no further than three years.

Both stood firm and LaRoche announced his intention of declaring himself a free agent at the end of the current season. Upon being dealt to the Angels, LaRoche and his agents immediately agreed to a five-year contract.

And almost immediately, Seghi began to get heat from the local media and fans for "giving LaRoche away."

"We're absolutely not throwing in the sponge," Seghi declared. "We are getting two good players capable of doing what we need. Both Bochte and Monge have proved themselves to be major league players. Bochte is an established hitter and Monge is a very good pitcher."

Bochte, 26 and in his fourth major league season, was hitting .290 for the Angels this year, with two homers and eight runs batted in. He has a lifetime batting average of .272.

Monge, also 26, was 6-7 with a 3.36 earned run average in 1976, his first complete season in the majors. He is 0-1 with one save and a 2.92 earned run average in four relief outings this year.

Gears Win Turner Cup From Toledo

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — It took three attempts, but the Saginaw Gears finally delivered the goods to their trophy-hungry International Hockey League fans after a two-goal performance Wednesday night from Stu Irving.

Before a sellout crowd of 5,463, plus another 800 watching closed circuit television, the Gears scored a lopsided 5-0 shutout over the Toledo Goaldiggers and captured the coveted Turner Cup. It was their fourth triumph in the best-of-seven playoff series with Toledo.

Leftwinger Irving slammed in his goals in the third period. The other tallies came from Marcel Comeau, Dave Westner and Wayne Zuk.

Gears goalie Mario Lessard blocked 20 shots. Toledo's Pierre Chagnon faced 40 shots on goal.

"I feel great," said Saginaw manager-coach Don Perry. "We beat a team that played an ineligible player. We beat a team that had an extra man, and we beat a team that defeated us in our last good shot at the cup two years ago."

Perry was referring to the discovery, after the playoffs started, that Toledo's Tom Mellor was over the age limit.

Cincinnati Bengals Open Rookie Camp

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Bengals of the National Football League hold their annual rookie camp today with 13 of 18 draft selections expected to be present.

The group will be headed by Cincinnati's top three choices, defensive tackles Eddie Edwards, Miami, Wilson Whitley, Houston and tight end Mike Cobb, Michigan State.

Jose Saint-Victor, guard from Syracuse; Alex Pecival, wide receiver from Morehouse, and Carl Allen, defensive back from Southern Mississippi, were excused because of final examinations.

Offensive linemen Mike Wilson and Joel Parrish, both from Georgia, who are signed with Toronto of the Canadian Football League, will not participate, the Bengals said.

Rockets Turn Back 76ers; Win 118-94

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Rockets guard John Lucas sat in front of his dressing cubicle exhausted, but with a look of deep satisfaction etched on his face.

"It was unreal, but I just knew if I could get back to familiar surroundings I would play well and so would the team," Lucas said Wednesday night after directing the Rockets to a 118-94 victory over Philadelphia in their National Basketball Association playoff series.

Criticized for his inability to control the tempo in two previous losses to the 76ers, Lucas had his hand on the pulse of the game all the way Wednesday as the Rockets narrowed Philadelphia's lead to 2-1 in the best-of-seven Eastern Conference championship series.

"Tonight we could dictate a little more what was happening," said Lucas, a rookie from the University of Maryland. "When you get the lead, you can have something to say about what to do."

The Rockets got a big early lead, zooming ahead 21-8 with 5:39 left in the opening quarter, and it was Lucas who led the surge, hitting 10 points in the first period.

Lucas hit a driving shot for the first two points of the game and the Rockets were in the lead all the way as they throttled the 76ers' running game.

"We didn't do anything different, we just played our game," Rockets Coach Tom Nissalke said. "We were able to keep Mo (Moses Malone) and Kevin (Kunnert) in there for a while. Usually Kunnert will wind up with five fouls and we have to get him out."

But this time Kunnert didn't get into foul trouble, and in fact, played a key role in keeping the 76ers from getting their fast break going.

Reds Slip Past Cardinals, 5-1

ST. LOUIS (AP) — It might have been reasonable to expect euphoria among the Cincinnati Reds following their second successive triumph.

The Reds downed the St. Louis Cardinals by 5-1 with 12 hits Wednesday night, but bliss was not a part of Manager Sparky Anderson's mind.

"We're not getting any mileage out of our hits," complained Anderson, who was as intent for the moment on finding fault as any efficiency expert. "We're getting a lot of hits, but we're not getting the runs."

Anderson's pique, the victory and key hits by Pete Rose and Johnny Bench notwithstanding, stemmed from two Cincinnati threats that fizzled during an unsuccessful bid to break open the game.

A bases-loaded opportunity was wasted in the fourth inning when Ken Griffey, following Bench's pivotal ground-rule double, bounced into a double play after two runs were scored.

An inning later, after Joe Morgan singled and raced to third on George Foster's hit, the Reds again came up bare-handed when Bench duplicated Griffey's misdeed.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Mary A. Withers on this her 58th birthday.

I looked at all the birthday cards
As I went from store to store.
The one that said Happy Birthday.
I read with longing once more.
I know that I can't send a card
Your hand I cannot touch.
But God will take our greetings
To the one we loved so much.
We know you're happy where you are.
So here is all that we can say.
We love you still — Happy Birthday
On this that would have been your day.

Sadly missed by Husband Ralph, sons, daughter, daughters-in-law, and grandchildren.

Normal
Blood Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Normal blood pressure ranges from about 90 over 60 to 140 over 90, says the National High Blood Pressure Education Program.

If the bottom number, known as the diastolic blood pressure, measures over 104 on two different readings, the program recommends a visit to a doctor for medication to lower the blood pressure.

Valentine's Day, the traditional lovers' festival in mid-February, has nothing to do with the two Christian martyrs named St. Valentine.

Why our Cub Cadet® is your No. 1 lawn buy

quality

You can tell it by the automotive-type chassis and the direct drive transmission with no chains or belts. Tell by the quiet—cushioned engine mounts, extra insulation plus a super-sized muffler. And by the traditional high trade-in value. You can also tell by features like the "Maintenance Minder" that tells you when it's time for periodic maintenance. It's just one way we help keep your Cub Cadet running like new long after others quit.

Cub Cadet, five models 10 to 16 hp, your no. 1 buy. And the time is right now.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR FRIDAY

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): You may have an unusual opportunity to advance your interest immediately — one which could have an important bearing on the future as well. Accept.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Scattered efforts will confuse, lead you off course. You can win big gains if you buckle down to essentials and STAY with them.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): You always enjoy a challenge, and you may face some interesting ones now. Tackle with vigor, but don't undertake ventures you would not usually consider.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): Domestic affairs, possibly a personal matter will need some extra attention. Do not, however, neglect daily chores or business needs because of it.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Some unprecedented situations or unusual propositions indicated. Study well, but defer taking action until early next week.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): Stars auspicious. Be observing, mindful of future needs. Especially favored: teachers, scholars, all those in the communications fields.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Mixed influences. Question and investigate where there is margin for error. Do not accept suggestions blindly.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23): Quick decisions may now be required due to suddenly changing situations. Be ready to think and act — but without anxiety.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Seeking an easy solution to a complex problem may only compound the complications. Face up to it, tackle it as you should, and there'll be no sorry aftermath.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A day in which you could be error-prone, so give careful attention to details — especially in domestic matters.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Stress your perceptiveness. A bit of shrewd observation will enable you to note certain new trends, obtain valuable information.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Look for some unusually pleasant communications from those at a distance; also, new contracts which could prove invaluable in a business way.

YOU BORN TODAY are one of the most versatile individuals in the entire spectrum of the zodiac.

Governed by Venus, the planet of love and beauty, you are naturally endowed with the potentials to succeed at almost any of the arts but, in addition, you have a practical side which fits you for many other careers. Thus, if you do not take up painting, sculpture or music, at which you are particularly adept, as a career, you may follow one or the other avocationally.

Other fields in which you could succeed: business management, the law, jurisprudence, teaching or horticulture. Traits to curb: obstinacy and jealousy.

Birthday of: Sir Arthur Sullivan, composer (Gilbert and Sullivan); Georges Braque, French painter; Daphne du Maurier, famed author.

The next scheduled NixonFrost shows still are set for May 19 and 25, says Marvin Minoff, executive vice president of Frost's Paradine Productions.

Frost last week said he'll put together a fifth program — which will include Nixon's response to the big question, why he didn't destroy the White House Watergate tapes that proved his undoing.

Minoff, in an interview this week, said no national air date is set for the fifth show, which will be an hour in length.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Quick decisions may now be required due to suddenly changing situations. Be ready to think and act — but without anxiety.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Seeking an easy solution to a complex problem may only compound the complications. Face up to it, tackle it as you should, and there'll be no sorry aftermath.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): A day in which you could be error-prone, so give careful attention to details — especially in domestic matters.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Stress your perceptiveness. A bit of shrewd observation will enable you to note certain new trends, obtain valuable information.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Look for some unusually pleasant communications from those at a distance; also, new contracts which could prove invaluable in a business way.

Views On Television

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Preeceded by a televised news conference in which President Carter discusses his first official trip overseas, Richard M. Nixon tonight discusses foreign affairs when he was president.

It's the second of Nixon's four scheduled taped interview programs with British TV personality David Frost, who paid him a reported $600,000 plus a percentage of the profits for the exclusive interviews.

Tonight's show almost caused officials at 137 network affiliates an agonizing choice — take the live network "feed" of Carter's news session or pass it for the national feed of the Nixon-Frost show.

Carter originally scheduled his news conference for 7:30 p.m. EDT tonight, which happens to be the same time the Nixon-Frost show is being transmitted to 155 stations on a special network hookup.

Fifteen of the stations are independents, three are public TV outlets and the rest are affiliated with CBS, NBC or ABC, which were to televise Carter's conference.

According to Robert Wold, head of the firm transmitting the Nixon shows from KTTV here, most stations can receive only one network feed at a time unless they're willing to pay for a second hookup.

"And that can be quite expensive," he added.

But stations signed for Nixon's show were spared the cost of a second hookup or a decision between a taped Nixon and a live Carter when the President rescheduled his news conference for 2:30 p.m. EDT today.

The change came Tuesday after Frost called the White House and mentioned his show was on at the same time Carter was to be on TV. However, both the White House and a Frost aide say Frost didn't ask the President to change the time of the news conference.

The next scheduled Nixon-Frost shows still are set for May 19 and 25, says Marvin Minoff, executive vice president of Frost's, Paradine Productions.

Frost last week said he'll put together a fifth program — which will include Nixon's response to the big question, why he didn't destroy the White House Watergate tapes that proved his undoing.

Minoff, in an interview this

YOU BORN TODAY are one of the most versatile individuals in the entire spectrum of the zodiac. Senior Citizens Award Banquet Held At Ohio State Fairgrounds

SENIORS HONORED — Randolph Wolfe (right) was inducted into the Senior Citizens Hall of Fame Wednesday. He is congratulated by Leon Bibb (left) WCMH newscaster, and Robert Liston (center) county commissioner.

Central Ohio Senior Citizens Hall of Fame Awards Banquet was held Wednesday at the Rhodes Central in Columbus with Randolph Wolfe of Circleville inducted as the representative from Pickaway County.

Master of ceremonies for the annual event, instigated by Area 6 which includes eight counties in Central Ohio, was Leon Bibb, newscaster of WCMH-TV in Columbus.

The invocation preceding a luncheon was the Rev. John Frazier, executive director of the Metropolitan Area Church Board.

Present for the event, along with 35 Senior Citizens from Circleville, were, Bob Liston, Chairman of Pickaway County Commissioners, Don Strous and Carl Schein Commissioners, and Bill Smith, president of Pickaway Council on Aging, Wanda Hamilton, executive director of Pickaway County Senior Citizens and Vera Saunders, senior service coordinator. Invited guests were introduced by Ardeth Lynch, administrator of Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging.

Midge DeWitt, former editor of the Madison Daily Press, paid tribute to the inductees and all Senior Citizens for their contributions to the society.

Choral selections were by the Olivet Baptist Church senior choir of Columbus. They concluded the program with a parody on "The Battle Hymn Of The Republic," interpreting the problems of those living on Social Security.

Martin A. Janis, executive director of the Ohio Commission on Aging, said Ohio was the first state to pay tribute to Outstanding Senior Citizens and there will be five selected from all area inductees named to the Ohio Senior Citizens Hall of Fame.

Certificates to the 11 inductees were presented by Don Parrott, chairman of the Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging Advisory Council, and Melvin B. Dodge, director of Columbus Recreation and Parks Department. Plaques were presented by Dodge. All nominees from each county were recognized.

Wolfe was selected to represent Pickaway County from a resume sent to the agency for his many contributions to area senior citizens.

Included was his service to Franciscan Community Meals, assisting with card parties to raise money for the center, working at the center in many capacities, serving as vice-president and imbuing in others his sincere dedication to insure success for the local area as well as invaluable assistance in securing the new Senior Center and the housing project which will soon be a reality.

As Wolfe accepted his plaque he said he was happy for the honor bestowed on him. He said he would continue to help all Senior Citizens as long as his health permits. He is a very young 70-year-old man dedicated to helping others.

In his closing remarks Bibb said that it was of great importance for young people to love their parents and tell them so, and to work together for dignity and the ability to be independent of others for their livelihood.

The picture of the ermine in a leghold trap was taken by a professional trapper in Canada just as the steel jaws closed with their crushing impact on his leg. This tiny tortured animal is caught in a No. 1-1/2 Victor trap which is also commonly used in Ohio.

In Ohio the greatest majority of trapping is done for a little extra pocket money or for weekend sport. The fur industry reaps the fabulous profit.

Ohio law requires traps be checked only every 30 hours — but even that law is not enforceable. Young children can and do purchase leg-hold traps — set them and more than often — forget them. Traps are generally placed in remote rural areas and their location need not be reported to state officials. Severe weather conditions can prevent a trapper from visiting his lines for days. All too often an animal lies in agony in a leghold trap until it dies of exposure to the weather, hunger or thirst before the trapper arrives to shoot or beat it to death.

Testimony of a trapper finding a wild ermine dead in a leghold trap: "There are signs of a terrific struggle: from experience I know the ermine lived 3 or 4 days and then died from hunger and pain. The foot is lacerated, swollen and covered with blood. The stump of the leg above the trap is swollen four times its natural size and frozen. The shoulder too is all swollen. When we skin it, we will find that all that area will be a mass of blood colored, sickly, gelatin-like substance, indicating the terrible suffering it has gone through before death released it. But it will make some lady a lovely fur piece."

Sometimes mother animals will attempt to return to their babies by gnawing off the imprisoned foot. Most of them die a slow, agonizing death from loss of blood or infection and/or gangrene

This is the kind of treatment we allow Ohio's wildlife to be subjected to year after year. (Fox, beaver, raccoon, squirrel, woodchuck, skunk, weasel, mink, rabbit, opossum, and muskrat.) It is probable that no instrument was ever invented that has caused as much suffering as the common steel leghold trap. It's continued use is a blot on today's civilized society. It has been abolished in 19 other nations. But the fur industry still unblushingly continues to support its use in the United States.

If trapping must be — and if there are those who must wear wildlife furs for the sake of vanity — then all we ask is that death come quickly to the wild creatures whose torture now pays for this vanity. PLEASE HELP!

Thousands of Ohioans have worked hard to bring this issue before Ohio voters. If you care — don't let our Ohio wildlife down. AT THIS POINT 75% OF THE REQUIRED SIGNATURES HAVE BEEN ACQUIRED.
